Love Is, Indeed, The Truth Of Your Being!

Indeed, greetings unto you, beloved and Holy children of Light divine. Again my Love I extend unto you and my blessings I would shower upon you. As always, know it is indeed with great Joy that I come forth to abide with you even as you have chosen to come forth and abide with me. Indeed, count it then, always as joy that this moment given unto us – not created by us, but indeed allowed by us – can in Truth exist. For it is that moment given us always of the Father, Who Loves us above all things, Who has indeed Created us equally in Love, sustains us in Love and brings us back to the fullness of the remembrance of that Love. For Love is, indeed, the Truth of your Being. You are the only begotten Son of God – begotten, not made – and indeed of one substance eternally with all that the Father is. (Arc)

Therefore, precious friends, though I have said it again – or before, I should say – it indeed bears repeating: you are already all that I am, and I come forth not as a saviour or a master above you but simply as a mirror of your True Self, as a friend and as a brother who Loves you always, and who well perceives how your enchantments with the limitations of space and time have for a moment beguiled you at times into believing that you are separate from God. Nothing could be further from the Truth.

Indeed, you inhere in that Holy Union that is there before time is. Nothing has ever shaken it, and not one thought you have ever held or what action you have ever done has ever separated you from the Love of that Perfect and most Blessed unions. For indeed, if you were not the Son of God, abiding in union with all that God is, even in this moment you would cease to be.

So, do you feel in this moment that you exist?

Good. Therefore, know that in any moment when the mind seems confused because it has forgotten that gentle Truth that abides within your Heart, pause for just a moment and turn your ears from the din and roar of the world. Return to that quiet place within and ask, "Do I exist?" And with the obvious answer, know that that means that you are yet One with God and that no circumstances that arise can ever sever you from that Joy and that Peace. For in Truth, Heaven is not a place and it is not even a condition. It is the quiet awareness that you are already all that the Father has Created you to be. And all that arises and passes away, in Truth, leaves not a trace or a scar upon you unless you insist on carrying it with you.

All Of The Power Of The Universe Is Given Unto You!

You are Loved wholly, precious ones. You have never sinned. You are not in need of being absolved of the past. You are only in need of recognizing that you are already the One you seek, and everywhere you are, you are safe. Has the journey, then, seemed so long? But it takes place in the twinkling of an eye. What, then, is it that seems to draw experiences unto you? Is it not your own perceptions? Not of what the world is but of what you are.

Never in Truth has the world dictated to you what you must see and what you must feel. But you have used the power given unto the only begotten Son of God, given freely since before time is, and you have used it to create the perception that you are separate from God and that the world around you holds a power to dictate to you whether or not you will know the Peace of God. I believe it is called, "thinking conditionally". Do you know that energy?

It is never true. If it were true that circumstances and conditions that the past you have dreamed into being can limit who you are, then God would not be Who God is. And I assure you He is. Understand that well then, for there is not one thing you must gain and draw to yourself to enter the Kingdom. You need only realize that you could never have possibly left it. And all of the power of the universe is given unto you that you might create as the Father has created you. Not out of lack. Not out of need and never out of fear, but out of the simplicity of unconditional Love that is born from the recognition of an infinite and perfect freedom.

Therefore, you are free to act and you are free to not act at all. There is no possible way that you can compare or measure yourself against anyone. For in the Mind of God comparison does not exist. And if you would see yourself as the Father has always seen you, if you would look through His eyes, as indeed you must, you will come to see that as you are and where you are you are already all that you would seek and all that you would know and all that you would become.

The Voice That Has Whispered To You All Along Begins To Be Heard!

Now, when in Truth you are ready to set aside every perception you have ever carried about what the world is and what it's for, about how it ought to be and how you should have been, when you are ready to release it all, there comes then a silence. The mind itself is set aside. And then finally the echo of an ancient Voice that has whispered to you all along begins to be heard. It is the echo of the Voice of the Comforter, that Holy Spirit, given unto you in the very moment that the only begotten Son of God held one thought: "I am separate from my Father. I must make my way. I must create my safety and, therefore, I shall proliferate all worlds, and I shall create a body in which I shall seek safety."

But all too often the body has become but a prison because it changes and does not last. And yet, what you have been seeking is that which is everlasting. Turn, then, and hear the echo of the Voice given unto you from before time is, that whispered gently to your Heart, "Beloved Son, you are home with Me. Open your eyes and Awaken from the dream that can serve you no longer. You are free. You are, indeed, freedom itself, and you are the Love that I have created you to be. You cannot lack when first you remember Me."

That Voice lies within you and is closer than your own breath. It forever transcends every thought you can think. It transcends every perception you have ever known and every judgment you have made. For can Love and judgement exist in the same time? I say unto you that it cannot. Therefore, what you judge you have separated from yourself, but it can only be Love that can bring the healing to you for which you have prayed for so long.

With A Healed Heart, The Body, Too, Becomes Healed!

What, then, is the world for? Only this: the world exists so that you might Awaken from it. That is what time is for: to be used constructively, not to create things but to Awaken from the dream of the dreamer itself.

Now, when that Awakening comes, does it abolish time? Yes, it does. For you will abide only in that which is eternal. Will the body disappear? Possibly. But probably not. But the body will be transformed from what is seen to be a prison, what must be controlled and directed, and it shall be returned to that which it was created to be: simply a vehicle for communication of Love, to make manifest in this world the Truth of the Mind of Christ. That is all that the body is for. It can in Truth serve no other function, save this. And when you have returned the mind to its wholeness by abiding in the quiet of a healed Heart, the body, too, becomes healed, and becomes that perfect and fit temple for the Mind of Christ.

You are, indeed, Loved wholly. You could never have possibly sinned. And given unto you in every moment is the opportunity to choose anew. That is how free you eternally are: to choose in this moment and this and this, to choose to extend only Love. Never fear and never judgment. Can you know the pathway that another should take? I say unto you: it is not possible to know what your brother needs. It is only possible for you to choose to abide in that place of Holy Union. And if your brother needs something of you, simply turn and ask the Holy Spirit and you will know what to say and what to do. Judgment of the pathway of another does nothing but create separation between you. And if you could but perceive it, every judgment you hold immediately separates you from the Love and Peace of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Therefore, I come forth in any manner that I possibly can, and I join with any Mind and Heart that would give me the slightest of openings. And I come forth because I love you, and I come forth to tell you the Truth of who you are, and indeed as a friend and as a brother. Any time you but turn to me, I will come and I will gently guide you. And yet, of myself, I do nothing, but because I understand that I am not the doer of any deed, the Father has the freedom to work through me completely and without error.

The Whole Of My Lifetime Upon This Plane Was Nothing But A Demonstration Of What You Are Capable Of Doing!

What, then, is your purpose? To simply become all that I am by choosing to recognize that you are already that perfection. Is there effort involved in coming unto the Kingdom? Is there effort and struggle involved in expressing it? It cannot be so, for effort is born only after the entanglement in your mind with the illusion of your separation from God. There is no effort in the Kingdom. Is there action? Yes. But it flows effortlessly. For you will find that you are guided by a quiet and still Voice.

And when the Voice says, "Go," you will go. And when it says, "Return," you will return. Not because you've been made subservient to a power greater than you, but because you have allowed correction to come to your mind, and you have come to see that your will must be the very same as the Will of God. Resistance and pain come only when you fail to see that simple and fundamental Truth.

And the whole of my lifetime upon this plane was nothing but a demonstration of what you are capable of doing. You are already all that I am. And the only difference between us has been that within your perception of time I chose to allow my unlimitedness while you have chosen to delay it for a little while. That is the only difference between us. And the veil is paper thin. The Truth of your Being indeed lies closer to you than your own breath. And you can choose anew with every breath. "Holy Father, I choose the Peace of God. I am the Mind and Heart of Christ. And when I look out upon the world, I choose not to see the projection of my judgments. But Father, show me the Truth of what is before me." And when you throw open the shutters of your Heart, you will be rather marveled, for everyone that you look upon will reflect the face of Christ. And the whole of this creation will be seen as a radiant unity, and then you will know that all things are perfect, and that all events taking place are perfect – though they seem to come from the fears, the guilts and the lusts and the desires and buried in the heart of man because he believes he is separate from God. I say this unto you: nothing mankind could ever create can do anything but return mankind to the Peace of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Every stone that you place in your path is used of the Holy Spirit to become a stepping stone that gently and inevitably brings you back to the Truth of your Self. That is the only journey that exists. Whatever takes place in the world around you, pay it no heed. It is already perfect and nothing can be outside the embrace of God.

Therefore, your function is simply to extend Love, always and with every breath. First, heal yourself, that through you that Love can then be extended, and with that Love indeed the Atonement shall be completed, and this your Holy Mother shall be healed. You are that One that has come forth to be the saviour of the world. Not by forcing others to be conformed to your perceptions, but by loving first the Truth of your only Reality so that you become a living demonstration, not of judgment and fear, but of Peace and unconditional Love and acceptance.

When You Choose Anew, The Whole Kingdom Picks Up Speed!

You cannot create the Kingdom, but you can allow it by simply refusing in any moment to allow the mind to be used for any purpose less than this: to express the Love of God. This is how simple in Truth it is: to make that choice with every breath, to choose not to let one thought or one action be anything less than the extension of unconditional Love. And when you choose to do that, because in Truth there is no separation, you have already uplifted the whole of creation. That is why there is a great acceleration going on within the drama of space and time in your plane: because the Mind of Christ is being remembered. It comes through many pathways and forms but the result is always the same.

For when you choose to be that Mind of Christ, you allow your brother or your sister to choose anew. And when they choose anew, the whole thing picks up speed.

That process has been going on since the beginning of time. For when mankind first believed that he had cast himself from the Garden of Eden, every step he has taken has in Truth been a return to the midst of that Garden. And what is being accelerated upon your plane is that return. Indeed, the turning of the ages is upon you. That is why each and every one of you has chosen incarnation in this time: not to suffer but to remember, not to seek but to demonstrate that you have found. That is the choice, that is the reality and that is the power to cease being a seeker and be the living presence of the One who has found. It rather all makes sense, doesn't it?

What, then, prevents you in each of your moments from choosing to be the One who has found? How often in the course of your days in your conversations with others do you allow yourself to be a bit of a chameleon and take on the energies of those around you who have forgotten the Truth of who they are? It is an old pattern and an old habit that you thought could keep you safe. "If I am conformed to the perceptions of the world, then I will be accepted and I can find safety there." Have you ever found safety in the world? No. And you know that. Have you ever found safety in being conformed to what another would ask you to be? No, but you have suffered pain in the soul every time you have forced yourself to do so.

The Holy Spirit's Guidance Will Not Be Hidden!

The only place safety can be found and the only place acceptance can be realized is in the depth of the Heart of Christ. That is the Truth of your own Reality and lies already as the very essence of your Being. And where, then, can your brother or sister find the safety they seek? First, in you, when you demonstrate the Truth of who you are. For you will create unto them what I have created for you: a simple mirror of the Truth of their Being. And when you look upon them and they insist that you see them as being sick and diseased in any format, and when you agree with that with them, you have already condemned them.

Am I asking you, then, to say unto another who would come unto you saying, "I am miserable. I am unhappy. I can live no longer," that you do not see their pain? No. I ask you to embrace it with the Love of Christ and look them in the eye and see nothing but the healed Mind of Christ. And then ask the Holy Spirit what is it that you should do. His guidance will not be hidden. You are the One who can bring healing to another by loving the Christ they are. And if they insist on refusing it, then bless their journey and turn away. Not in judgment but out of the recognition that just around the corner one is crying out for a mirror so that they can choose anew. Your only purpose, your only purpose, is to extend the Love of Christ, and that extension can only take place when you acknowledge that you are Christ eternal.

There, you see, is the eye of the needle. There is the threshold that must be crossed. You cannot bring your false perceptions with you, because you have made the world in error and because it has come from only a moment's perception in the mind.

There is not one thing you can do to gain entrance to the Kingdom. There is no magical rite to do it. You must simply choose to change your mind. And every time a habit of thought comes that says, "I am separate from God," replace it with the Truth until the pattern arises no longer. There is, in Truth, no other way. (Arc)

The mind that chooses Peace and the Heart that opens to the guidance of the Holy Spirit in all things, at all times, becomes indeed like one who is guided by the wind. You cannot see from where it comes or where it is going, but you will be guided by that invisible Intelligence, that Perfect Guidance of the Holy Spirit that blows gently into your Heart and into your mind and lets you know where to be and when to be and what to do. (JT - E)

Christ Is Not Something That I Possess, That You Do Not!

Would you not, then, come to where I am? For indeed, I wait here just on this side of a world you have dreamt into being, and I have looked upon your pain and I have looked upon your journeys and I have never ceased in loving you. And I have never moved from where I am, for wherever you are, I am in the midst of you, though often you have not perceived me. I have been given of my Father unto this world to assist mankind in remembering the Truth that it is Christ eternal. Christ is not something that I possess, that you do not. I merely live in the awareness that Christ is the essence of my Being. As it is equally yours. (Arc)

Would you, then, choose with me to change your mind? To see that every perception born from the soil of the illusion of separation must necessarily be false? It is insubstantial and holds no power. For God has never created anything in error, and you as the only begotten Son of God are in Truth the only creation of God. You are the One that has brought forth all worlds of complexities. Therefore, you are the One who can heal them by bringing the Light of your own Reality back to it.

And when the Mind of Christ has been remembered in every soul, every soul will see that there has never been separation, that in Truth you can never look upon anyone and see a stranger. You can see only yourself. And when the Atonement is completed, the long journey that never needed to be will be ended, and the very purpose of creation will have been completed. For from first the Prodigal Son stepped outside of the Kingdom into his illusions, each step has brought him closer to this age, and it has been inevitable.

Will that completion come quickly? It's up to you. Will you allow it first in your own Heart? There is no other way. You cannot wait for another to bring the Kingdom to this earth. You can only choose it for yourself. And I come forth in this time – indeed I work not only with this my most ancient and beloved brother, I work with many, and I will work with anyone who chooses to turn to me as a friend – to participate in the Atonement that is going on in the mind of mankind.

I Come Only To Give You A Gentle Reminder That I Love You and I Am With You Always!

Precious friends, I come because I need your help. I come because the Father needs you as much as you need Him. Those of you that love this earth, remember with me that we are One, that the Light that has been held under a bushel of erroneous perceptions can be released and can be radiated through the whole of creation once again, now, even as it was in that ancient beginning before time is.

You are the ones. You – just as you are – you are that Light that springs forth from the Heart of God. And you have chosen to take on the form of a physical body in space and time for no other purpose than to love creation back into its original radiance. But, for a little while, you have forgotten, and I come only to give you a gentle reminder that I love you and I am with you always.

Already it is a great Truth that you do not abide within the body, but the body abides within you. You do not exist in time, but time has arisen within you. Already you embrace the whole of Creation and can know no separation. What, then, can you lack? What, then, must you do? What must you feel to be completed? For you live the life of every being. Give yourself, then, to the Truth of who you are and you shall know what it means to allow all things, to embrace all things, to be carried by a river of Light, the wisdom of which knows all that is required to serve and complete the Atonement.

Right where you are you can know your Father's Will for you by abiding in the Heart and opening your eyes. "Where would you have me be, Father?" Look around you. You are here. And when I asked the Father where He would have me go, I go. And I come forth to join with you because, indeed, from the Heart of God has come forth that simple impulse: "Join with these so that the message that I would give unto you to deliver unto them will not be diluted, that the energy will be clear and pure, so there can be no distraction. For in Truth, all have come close to the Kingdom and require a moment of quiet purity so that they can remember that I abide within them." And so I have come forth, as even once again this my beloved brother has allowed me the use of his carcass to come forth and be with you.

You are where the altar of God has been placed. You carry it in your Heart, and indeed if in any moment you would believe that you have forgotten, merely touch your Heart and remember. For there I shall be also. For there, in the Heart of your Hearts, we are already One.

Herein Lies The Heart Of My Gospel!

My Peace I extend unto you. I throw open my arms and embrace you, and I ask only but as a friend, and as a brother and as a sister, would you not embrace me? I am not above you and you are not below me. I love you with the Love with which the Father Loves me, that indeed you might be in me even as I am in the Father, that the Father might be in us, who are already the Sons of the living God.

We, indeed, participate in one Heart and one Mind, and your world will try a million times in every one of your days to insist that you see it otherwise. That is what the world is. Therefore, consider this: can the world teach you anything? I would say unto you that it cannot. For what contains no knowledge of Christ contains nothing of Reality. What, then, would you learn from the world save the insanity of false perceptions? Would you not release them? Would you not release the power that you have given unto the world and take it back for yourself? You know what Truth is because you are that Truth. Indeed, the world teaches you nothing, except perhaps all of the ways that can be devised to deny the presence of Christ.

And have you not looked upon every where and every when? Have you not already lifted up every rock that the world has created, and have you not witnessed all of the ways in which Christ is denied? Is it not time to give that up and go to the only place that Christ can be found – in the temple of your own Heart and the essence of your Being as you walk upon this earth? As you place food within the body, as you breathe deeply of the angel of air and as you extend a smile unto another, you are the embodiment of Christ. Nothing less could be true. And the fullness of the Kingdom simply awaits your choice to embrace it and claim it as your own.

Herein lies the heart of my Gospel. For indeed, the Atonement is completed in the Heart and Mind of anyone who can exclaim without a trace of self-consciousness or doubt, "Behold, I and my Father are One."

I love you. I love all that you are. And I love every moment of your journeys, for have they not served to bring you even to this moment? Has there ever been an accident in your journeys? No. All has been an exquisite tapestry that weaves that perfect magic carpet that brings you back to the Truth of who you are.

Therefore, precious friends, learn to embrace every moment and bless it. For all that you see is, indeed, that which serves your own Atonement. Your moment-to-moment experience must be only this: the very pathway to your enlightenment. In Truth, it cannot be anything else. Nothing delays you. Nothing sways you. The end of the journey is certain, and it has been certain since time began.

Therefore, beloved friends, trust all things. Embrace all things. Love all things. For how can you transcend, how can you ever leave what you have not first embraced and Loved? Only Love heals. And if there is a dark corner within you that still seems to plague you, go to it fearlessly for it is but a moment's chimera. And embrace it with the Love of Christ and give it thanks, and indeed the Holy Spirit will then dissolve it from you because its purpose will have been completed. Indeed.
