Awaken To The Simplicity That In Reality You Can Only Be The Presence Of Love!

I once said that "I am with you always," and I meant it. I have never truly left this plane, though I did release any thought or belief that having a body was necessary. And yes, I have transcended space and time and, therefore, am not limited to the rules, to the perceptions, to the paradigm that seems at times to control your minds. But because this has been accomplished and completed in me, it means that it must necessarily come to pass that it is also completed in you. For the life that you live so seemingly different, one from another, is not different at all and, if you would receive it, it is not different from the life that was given unto me in this world. For your life holds but one purpose and that is indeed to awaken from every last trace of perception that you have ever have been or could be separate from God. (JT - FF)

To awaken from the dream that you could be less than the Presence and the Reality of Love, to awaken from the dream that there is anything in the world that can harm you or take a single thing around you from you, to awaken from a mind conflicted with doubt and fear and perhaps self-loathing, to awaken to the simplicity that in Reality you can only be the Presence of Love, means that conflict in the mind ends when you truly understand that being the Presence of Love is the only thing that in Reality you are capable of being and doing.

The surrender, then, or a relinquishment of the attempt to be anything else but Love opens within you a sense of peace and a place of Great Power. A place of Power that will no longer allow you to tolerate error within the mind again. It will no longer allow you to tolerate what could be called the abuse thrown upon you by an insane mind or an insane world, and you will know that you are as free as the wind, free indeed because the Heart says so.

Free indeed to have created a career and after twenty years wake up one morning and say, "Oops, none of this. Goodbye." Free indeed and powerful enough indeed to look at the insanity of the world as it manifests seemingly around you or even as it manifests within your own mind and laugh at it – not in derision, not in putting it down, but laughing at it because it is harmless.

At Times You Tend To Forget and Fall Into A Habit

Indeed, beloved friends, I have come to abide with you, in this particular way, for no other reason than to love you in a way that you can see and understand and, hopefully, accept. But, in Truth, I am no more within this body than you are within yours. And the only difference between us is that I know that is true while you at times tend to forget and fall into the habit of believing that surely you must only be here, you must be limited to the space and volume of a body. And every time you do that, you have known fear. Every single time that you have chosen to identify with just what starts at the crown of the head and ends with the soles of the feet and extends outward as far as the tips of the fingers, you have known fear and you have felt distance and separation from your brothers and sisters. Even in the best of moments that fear has been there.

And as long as identification with the body remains, you have and will continue to seek out all manner of ways in which you can keep the body safe and fulfill your needs according to its perceptions. If you value the body above all things, your entire experience will revolve around satisfying the things that you believe can keep the body – and its attendant ego – safe and secure. And, therefore, walls of fear will come. The wall of fear that says, "Well, I've had my job for fifteen years. I can't just drop it and go because some little Voice inside says to do so. That's totally illogical and insane. Besides, what will happen to me?"

Do you know that fear? What if I were to say to you that nothing will happen to you? What if I were to say to you something that sounds so insane? What if I were to say to you that nothing has ever happened to you? What if I were to say to you that everything you've experienced and known and believed and perceived has been simply by your choice? You are like a grand and great artist. You have painted the canvas of possibilities for yourself and yet, in Truth, nothing has ever happened to you. For if it has happened to you, you must first believe that there is something outside of you, and so we come back to that one simple lesson. And when it is learned, the world is transformed and transcended.

It is very pivotal, I believe your word would be: "There is nothing outside of me. I am the dreamer of all worlds. I am the creator and the sustainer, and all that I perceive and feel within myself in this very moment is by my choice. And that which seems to perpetuate itself in my experience comes only because I've not yet been willing to relinquish the value that I have placed upon it: a belief that perhaps something has control over me, that I must stay in one place and be conformed to some certain way of being or some calamity will ensue." And yet, all such thoughts come from your misidentification of yourself as this limited third dimensional being, when, in fact, right now, you are as I am. And if I am but a great Ray of Light held in the Mind of God, a great Ray of Light that shines in the perfection of Love and touches the vast reaches of all universes, the same thing is true for you.

Throw Off The Shackles Of The Perceptions and Beliefs Of This World!

What then could that Bridge be? For it is fine – and what you call “dandy” – to hear such insane thoughts be thrown at you, but what must that Bridge be that carries the mind from its habitual perceptions of itself into a place where such thoughts are self-evident? What is that Bridge that carries you from doubt, from fear, from limitation, from hesitancy, from pulling back, from believing that you are separate, and even you can lose or things can at least be lost to you? What is that Bridge that carries you into a space or a place in which the kinds of ideas that I'm sharing with you are naturally self-evident? What is that Bridge that can carry the mind unto a place of perfect peace, in which the walls of fear no longer arise? In which you can throw off the shackles of the perceptions and beliefs of this world and allow yourself to become as the wind, freely going, following what is called the Heart, following what is called your deepest joy? What is that Bridge that carries the mind to a place where you are willing to trust, trust the gentle Voice that is not your own?

Someone said that such a Bridge is simply to choose being insane. Rest assured, there were many who said that about me: "Why would you listen to this one? He's wholly insane. I remember him when he was but a child, learning to be a carpenter in his father's little shop. Yes, he would disappear for weeks on end, go off to meet those oddballs, those called the Essenes, and he would come back and do some rather interesting and odd things, but I tell you, he's just a child like everybody else and don't listen to him. He's wholly insane. Yes, I am well aware he's been talking about his Father Who lives with him always, and I tell you I just saw Joseph yesterday in the city and he wasn't anywhere near Jeshua. And he talks about this Kingdom of Heaven and that you are not separate at any time in any way, shape or form, and what he says to you, death is unreal. Don't believe him. Look around you. Life will tell you what is true and what is real."

Oh, yes, I was called insane. And so the Bridge that carries the mind from where it seems to be to the place of peace, into the place in which the shutters are thrown off of the inner spiritual side, thrown off the Heart, the Bridge begins to be built with your choice to be willing to allow it to be built for you. And that willingness comes as a gentle thought within your own mind and within your own Heart, in which, in your own way, you say to God – in whatever way you want to conceive of God – "I want freedom and I want peace, and above all things I am willing to relinquish my own thoughts and perceptions of who I am and what the world is for. I am willing to return myself, to start anew and to relinquish all value that I have placed upon the perceptions that I have come to identify with, and I am willing and ready to be taught anew."

"I'm Going To Allow Myself To Be Taught A New Way and Ask That Voice, and That Voice Alone, To Be My Guide!"

Willingness is the first step of creating that Bridge that must necessarily carry the soul from where it dwells, in its sense of separation, into its Reality that has never changed:

The Reality of being one with God, unlimited forever, having no birth and never tasting death, the remembrance of yourself as a great Ray of Light held lovingly in the Mind of all that God is, a remembrance that begins to outshine for you and through you every perception of limitation that you seem to see through the eyes of the body.

Willingness – your willingness – and that willingness rests on your choice to entertain the thought of being insane in the eyes of the world, having the audacity, the outrageousness, the courage to say, "I'm going to allow myself to be taught a new way. From this moment I am going to act as if I am not the body and I am not its attendant ego at all. Any such feelings or thoughts that arise within the body and the ego are not mine at all. They are just a movie." And if nine million, nine hundred and ninety-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine of your friends and your family believe otherwise, so what? "I'm going to become so outrageous that if I'm the only one on the planet to entertain the thought that "I and my Father are One," I'm going to do it and allow that thought to restructure all of my perceptions.

And if that means that all of my experience needs to change radically, if I need to give up what I perceive to be the comfort of my life and my career and my everything, what the heck, I'm going to do it anyway. I'm going to withdraw the value I have placed on the things of the world." That's not the same thing as immediately cutting yourself off from the world and running away from it. That's not what I mean. But, internally, in the mind and Heart, you choose to withdraw the value you have placed upon all the experiences you have known and believed must continue to keep you safe.

When you choose to be the one to do that, you open the door. And the door that you open is to the Hallowed Temple in which the Holy Spirit dwells, closer to you than your own breath, more certain than any dream you have ever had or the experience you've ever known in this world. And because you have opened that door, that shutter, there is a place within your own mind that begins to be capable of hearing a Voice that is not your own, a Voice that might speak with a twang of intuition, a Voice that might seem to pull you one day in one direction and then one day in the next. But you will begin to discern that its pull and that its Voice, and that its included little hits, always come from a place of peace and never conflict, unless you choose to continue in your insanity. Your ability to hear that Voice grows.

It's like looking through a fog and seeing a distant light. At first you see it; you recognize it; something about it is attractive, but then you try to focus on it and the fog seems to obliterate it. But sit in the midst of what you think that fog is – whatever is going on in your mind – and remind yourself, "I am not separate from the One Who has created me as the thought of Love in form. God is with me, now, and I choose anew. I look upon the body and the conflicts that arise in the thoughts of the ego and I choose to see them as not my own, and I relinquish them and I place them upon the altar of the Heart, and I ask again only to hear the sweet and gentle Voice that speaks from and for peace. And I ask that Voice, and that Voice alone, to be my guide."

Follow That Gentle Voice That Speaks From and For Peace,
For The Holy Spirit Is That Bridge Already Placed Within You!

Now all of that sounds nice, but I want you to know that if you have listened carefully, if you are willing to absorb it and take it within yourself, you will understand that all that I teach you I teach only because I once learned it. And the ideas and the thoughts that I have shared with you are the very same ideas and thoughts that were taught to me. And because I learned them I can share them with you. And I can say unto you that from where I am, that way of listening and following that gentle Voice that speaks from and for peace, that way – following that way – leads with perfect certainty to peace, to fulfillment, to salvation, to Atonement. It leads you gently across the Bridge that you have allowed to be constructed for you. When you create a place for It within you, It will lead you beyond all limitations of this world finally, completely and most certainly. It will lead you in each moment and in each set of circumstances from conflict to peace, from war to peace, from self-doubt to Self-Love, from anger to gentleness, and perhaps above all, from separation to union with God. And it may occur now.

There cannot be a set of circumstances that can ever steal from you the power to choose which voice you will listen to and value. For both voices are within you. The Holy Spirit is that Bridge already placed within you, given wholly by the beloved Grace of God unto you, His precious Child and His only creation, who once choose to dream the dream of separation. You see, you do not really create the Bridge at all but through your willingness you begin to recognize that it already exists. And at first it seems ephemeral and "What will happen if I step upon this Bridge? Will it collapse? Will it dissolve like mist rising from a valley because the sun is come? Will I fall into some of this?" Many of you know deeply that fear of letting go and stepping upon a Bridge that doesn't quite seem real yet. But its lack of reality only comes because you've forgotten for a long period of time that the Bridge is already there.

"And if I step upon it, will I fall?" And I would suggest that if we were all perfectly honest with ourselves now, we would have to admit that, "My goodness gracious, I've already fallen a thousand times about as far as one could possibly fall." Is there anything to be lost by choosing to entertain the thought that there is a perfect Bridge within you now and a Voice Whose guidance will never err when your intention is peace? What do you think? Willing to take the step, take the leap, as you call it?

Some already have. Some already know through your experience that no matter what seems to be occurring in the world around you, it is perfectly safe to have stepped upon that Bridge and to have begun the practice of learning how to listen to the still and quiet Voice that speaks for peace. If we teach you a new way of looking at who you are and what the world is for, that would ask you to relinquish everything you've ever valued so that it can teach you the one thing that holds a value that is priceless. And some still stand with your toes perhaps upon the Bridge, but yet perhaps a little reluctant to step boldly.

Time To Make A New Choice and To Choose To Hear Only The Voice For Peace!

I have come for those that have been called to hear again that the Bridge exists within you, to hear again of the great safety in stepping upon it. And that which can propel you to that is forgiveness.

Have you ever had a thought of anyone or anything and valued your anger and valued your judgment of another being, another event that occurred yesterday or, quite often is the case, many, many years ago? Have you ever noticed that now and then the thought of the judgment that you have placed upon that event or upon the choice of that person, whatever it is, can come in the midst of the most peaceful of your moments and disturb that peace instantly? Have you ever looked closer to see how part of the mind that I have called the ego, likes to bring those things up?

You find the mind saying, "If only my parents would have done things differently. If only somebody else would have been elected President. If only I would have gotten that promotion. If only I hadn't eaten that ice cream. If only something... then I would be whole, happy and in peace." Know you that voice?

That voice is the voice of the world. That is the voice of the ego. And each time you notice that it has arisen within you, right there is the time to make a new choice and to choose to hear only the Voice for peace. And the way that choice can happen and become strengthened and accelerated is that in any such time a thought arises, a thought of anger, an ancient memory – and from my perspective, anything that happened five minutes ago is an ancient memory – understand that you have the power to extend forgiveness to that memory. Not just to the being who was involved or the beings involved, but to the memory itself as it holds as if it were a movie within you, to extend forgiveness to it, to wrap it in your Love. And if you want to change it, go back to that event that didn't quite seem to work out. Go back to the time that your spouse or your boyfriend or your girlfriend packed up and left and, by the way, they packed your things with theirs, go back to that moment when they left you out of their own fears and of their own insanities without honoring all that you are, and change the event.

See them as having come to you and sat down with you and said, "You know, I really feel in my Heart I need to go. May I have your permission?" And you say, "Yes, I love you. Of course you can go and do whatever you want. I can't be separate from you because minds are never separate one from another, and time and space don't really exist anyway, so just go and have a good time. Send me a postcard – not the physical kind, but come to me in my dreams and my meditations, between the space of the thoughts that arise in my mind, and just say, 'Hello' now and then. I love you so much I give you total freedom to do whatever you want."

Feel yourself change that event within your own memory and you will change the energetic state of what you've been holding onto. And extend forgiveness to yourself for unwittingly holding onto a perception that has never hurt the other person but has hurt you because it has limited you, and separated you from the Love that you are and the sense of peace and safety that was placed there in you when you were created in the Mind of God.

Everything Can Be Made New Again, Here and Now!

Forgiveness is the great need of this world. And if it is the great need of this world, it means that it is the great need within each and every mind. Forgiveness is that which allows the Heart and the mind to become untethered to the past. Forgiveness will allow you to embrace the present and to move boldly into what you call the future, knowing that wherever you are, all power under Heaven and Earth is given unto you, because given unto you is the inherent and infinite power of your mind to choose: the power to choose to set aside anything you believe you dislike, anything you are hesitant about; the power to recognize that everything can be made new again, here and now. And if you are lacking monies, then all you need do is accept the fact that the attitudes and perceptions you have held obviously have never worked and you are free to choose anew. And if you are without what you call "love", obviously somewhere you chose wrongly.

Now, there are two ways to change that: Thirty-three years of psychotherapy might do it and you'll make somebody very wealthy or you can look at the choice you made by looking at what your present experience is and go, "My goodness gracious, the joke is on me. Perhaps it is time to choose anew."

Become again as a little child who in their innocence is willing to learn anew and to adopt a new perspective and a new perception, so that the experience that you've had that has seemed to limit you, the experiences that you are now withdrawing your value from, can be replaced by that which will teach you that all things can come to you when you accept your worthiness as a Child of God.

You have the power of choice at any moment at anytime to radically change everything about you: your thoughts, your energy state, everything. You know that this is true. For only when you are willing to surrender every last bit of attachment to yourself as the doer or the maker or the one who deserves more than another, only then can peace descend. Only when the Heart has been made pure by realizing that there is nothing you can do of your own to accomplish that peace, then I can come to you. When you are willing, truly willing, to be available no matter what it takes, no matter what form it might take, but just to be available and to be willing - then miracles can be extended through you. (JT - P)

The Kingdom Waits For You To Make A Quiet Choice In The Depth Of Your Heart!

Indeed, beloved friends, think not that magic must be found through complex means and in some other worlds. For where you are is in the Kingdom of Heaven, now. And though you abide not so much in the body, you can experience through it, in this dimension, the same degree of fullness of God's presence as you can in any dimension anywhere.

Nothing is hidden to you ever, and the whole of the Kingdom waits for you to make a quiet choice in the depth of your Heart: "I will live, yet not I, but Christ lives in me that life that is already with my Father, since before time is. And I surrender my identification with the thoughts of the world, and from this moment forward I think only the thoughts of Christ. I walk in the walk of Christ and I extend only the Love of Christ."

And in doing that, of course, guess who you become? Christ. Christ made manifest to a world that has fallen asleep. That power is in you even now. Precious friends, is it not time to truly set aside the limitation born of fear? To acknowledge that within you lies all power to accomplish all things? And in Truth I come and I would work through you. Never limit the miracles I can work through you, and as you allow me to do them through you, you will know that they must have been done to you. And I come and I knock upon your door.

Ah, in you there is a Light that shines so brightly. So radiantly. It has never been limited by anything. Nothing. Every fear you have ever known has come from the world and not from your true Mind. Every doubt has been but a pattern of perception learned in an insane world. And wherever you are, it is given unto you to claim the power to take care of whatever needs to be taken care of. And as you become willing to be the servant of Christ, you will find that you will sacrifice nothing. You will only relearn what truly has value and meaning. And as you do so, what you think you are giving up is given up gladly because correction has come to the mind and you see that it never held value.

It may be a relationship. It may be a home. It might even be the life of the body. But what you will do is become realigned with that which does hold meaning and that which does hold value, and you will find that to walk in the way that I would give unto you requires no sacrifice. It does require a willingness to embrace all that is eternal and all that outshines the world, to realize that there is nobody home, save Christ. There is nobody in that carcass. Nobody. It's just been a thought in the mind and the mind transcends the body. A little gnat shouting at the vastness of space, believing that the body is your home and that it can keep you safe, and that if you can become conformed to this tiny little world, you might find something called peace.

Become So Bold and Outrageous!
Choose The Certainty Of Your Union With God!

From my perspective, what you call your world is like a spinning vortex about the size of a thimble. And you have been trying to squeeze yourself into its forms over and over again. And all around that little spinning vortex lies a supernal Light unlimited. And when you rest into it, you are peace itself.

Does the body die? Not necessarily, but it does become translated. No longer is it yours at all. It is only a vehicle through which Christ extends Love.

So, you see, are you going to die and incarnate again? No, you've never done that anyway, but you might continue the dream of incarnation. Will you forget the Kingdom only to seek it again? No, but you might choose to continue the dream of the seeker. And yet, so close to you, so close to you is the opportunity to surrender the dream of the dreamer. To become so bold and outrageous as to proclaim, "What the heck, I've tried everything else. I think I'll see what it is like just to say that Christ lives here and only Christ."

You don't have to know what that means or what it will feel like. It is your willingness and your proclamation that allows Christ to correct the perceptions of the mind so that you will see revealed right where you are – Christ. And then you will laugh with me and say, "Ah, I've learned how to live as Christ. It wasn't as hard as I thought. I just learned to choose in each moment to release every judgmental thought and to replace it with a loving thought. Whenever fear arose, I replaced it with Love. Whenever doubt arose, I said, 'Ah, ah, there is no place for you here.' And I chose the certainty of my union with God." And through that simple practice, the mind becomes illuminated with the Light that it truly is: Christ eternal.

Imagine There Has Been Born Within You A Vision Of A Planet Of Peace!

Beloved friends, the hour is at hand. There are many, many changes coming to your world. And yet, if they come to your world so that you see them out there, it means they must have come to the consciousness of mankind first, a consciousness that you participate in and cannot be separate from for a moment.

Therefore, imagine if there has been born within you a Vision of a planet of peace, of a world no longer spinning in its madness, a world in which everyone is greeted and treated as a brother and a sister of equality, a world in which nobody knows hunger, or being cold, or being damp because of the rain that falls because they have no roof. If that vision touches your Heart, can you not already see that at some point you have made the choice to open to the Light of Christ? And that Light is working through you and that's what's bringing all the changes and all the magic and all the miracles to your life: because you chose to say, "Yes," to say, "Yes," to Christ and "No" to the world.

You chose to be so outrageous and so bold as to declare that this whole thing has been made up, and it can be unmade and recreated, and perhaps you've come to realize that in you is the power that made it all up anyway. And so, through you a New Vision can be born, and that is what this time is all about. You are no longer going through time just to get through it. You are choosing to translate time into the means by which the Kingdom of Heaven would be made manifest again upon this Earth. That is who you are. That is what you are about and that is why you are here.

And all it takes is the willingness to loosen the shackles from your Heart, to see that your true family is everyone who hears and receives the Word of God and lives it. Gone is that error of thinking that the Word of God is something serious and heavy. Nonsense. It's always been nonsense, by the way. Always.

The Word of God is a joyful melody sung through the Heart of your presence, and it sings with perfect unity and unlimited possibility. The Word of God is your breath and your existence. Therefore, if you breathe, you are the Word of God made flesh. And the great miracle is that even when you forget that, you do not change the Word of God at all. You simply hide it from your awareness. And if you have hidden yourself from it, you can turn again to it at any moment.

I come, therefore, with great joy, great joy. Because I can abide with my brothers and sisters who have been with me since before time began. And I come to share with you, not bodies in space, but minds that are joined in Love. And if you would receive it, my embrace and my touch is no further from you than your willingness to receive it now.

It won't take serious meditations. It will take laughter and dancing and singing and play. It will take hugging and loving and healing and forgiving. It will take the release of history from your being, setting aside every trace of your personal past. It will take willingness.

Who is willing to live without a past and without a future?

God is the one authority that does not keep a file on you. Your past does not exist. It has never existed. Your past has never existed, except when you insist on clinging to it. Now, there is an interesting thing about clinging to the past: it drags your consciousness backwards into the slower vibration – that would be a better way of putting it, I guess – the slower vibration that you seem to be caught up in.

Have you ever tried to fit boxes, full of a thousand incarnations worth of history, through the eye of a needle? It doesn't work. You can't take it with you. The eye of the needle is only big enough for Christ to pass through.

Who is willing to live without a past and without a future? Try that for just an hour. Anyone ever have the feeling "I wonder if God is going to show up for me?" There is only one way to find out. You call it in your world, "Walking your talk." Are you willing to simply move forward, demanding that I always show up? Are you willing to surrender every situation to me? Isn't that really what it is all about? For when you are willing to surrender every situation to me, you are really saying to yourself, "I am willing to allow only Christ to be present in this situation."

What you are doing is setting aside the little gnat shouting at the vastness of space. You are taking the whole of the cosmos and putting it back in the lap of God. And that is why every moment, every single moment of your experience is so precious a gift to you. It never deserves your laments. It never deserves your impatience or your judgment. Every moment of your experience is given to you as an opportunity for you to give it to me. That's what it's for.

Through You, The Father Can Do All Things!!!

Have I not said unto you that the Holy Spirit has translated everything that has been made in error, space and time, into the very means that will lead the Son back to the Kingdom? That's how it happens when you are willing to relinquish your own thoughts and ideas about what a moment is for and just give it to me. And you will witness how that moment is used to create miracles. And because you have witnessed them, you will know that they have been done through you and, therefore, to you.

And oh, how hard it can seem to relinquish your grip on illusions. To be willing to say, "You take it. I'm done." To actually allow your life, that you really believe you possess, to truly allow it to be used by Something and Someone you can't even see? Oh, my goodness, that is outrageousness. To give up the attempt to be the doer and the maker. To give up the dream of the dreamer.

Oh, beloved friends, holy brothers and sisters, not only must you be willing to say, "I live, but not I, but Christ lives in me," you need to be willing to see that nobody has ever lived there except Christ. No one. The contraction which is a little gnat called the ego has never truly existed. Never.

An awakened mind, a master, is one who knows that, and that's why they can go lightly in the world, and that's why they are very humble, and that's why they know they have never accomplished anything, and that's why they know that Grace is Real.

And if they do great things, you will never get them to take credit for it. They might smile and say, "Thank you", but even in that moment they have already given it to the True Doer and the True Maker. And what greater freedom could there ever be than to know that of yourself you do nothing? But that through you, through you, the Father can do all things – including translating this tiny little vortex into the vastness of the Kingdom of Heaven.

All You Are Asked To Do Is Live As Though You Are Not An Ego!

So, there you have it. If you have been listening, you know I have been giving you a few homework assignments. Time is short and you had better beware – {chuckling} – you'd better be aware. Time is short indeed because it doesn't exist.

If there is any area of your life that needs some cleaning up, set about and get it done. And if you clean up those little corners of your life that you have been avoiding – perhaps you need to communicate with someone to share your true feelings, to extend your forgiveness, to throw yourself at their feet and ask for theirs – whatever it is, set about and get it done.

And that is what I mean when I say that God needs you as much as you need God. You are the ones that are in the classroom. You are here on this plane. You are the ones who are here to take the actions necessary to get the forgiveness done. And do it first in your own mind. Don't fear anything; just go and get it done.

Any unfinished business, finish it. Finish it. Be done with it and a new Light will begin to move through you. Let it carry you where it will and you will know that you are in the right place at the right time. Trust the Holy Spirit to work out the details.

You are only asked to be the presence of happiness. To be the presence of peace. To be the presence of the one who no longer tolerates error in their thought, their perceptions or their deeds. That's all. In short, all you are asked to do is live as though you are not an ego. Now, that sounds almost simplistic, but it's very powerful.

If you would just stop in any moment when you are about to become angry or give judgment or be fearful, and ask yourself, "Would such a response be characteristic of the ego or of Christ?" I would be willing to bet that you won't have a difficult time in knowing which camp to stick that in.

And that tells you something very important about you. If truly and honestly you always can know which camp such a choice might belong in, it means that you are that mind that sees clearly always. It tells you that you must be Christ if you can discern the characteristics of living in Christ. And no one has to tell you what they are. And in that recognition there is great freedom and great power.

So, we are all done with the ego stuff. And there comes, then, a stirring in the depth of your Heart, in the depth of your soul, and a new journey begins. Not a journey deeper into dreams, but a journey that begins to lift you from all dreams. And in part of that process, you will believe that someone has come a-knocking upon your Heart. And perhaps that they have forced their way upon you just a little bit. But, indeed, it is not true, for awakening can only come from absolute freedom. Therefore, indeed, if you can acknowledge that you have begun the process of awakening, give yourself credit, because you have heard your own call. (JT - Joy)

The Call Of Your Own Soul To Awake!

What is happening is this: from the moment that explosion occurred and the dream of fragmentation and separation came into being, already the very energies of that explosion began weaving the tapestry that would eventually and inevitably bring the fragmented parts of the Mind of the holy Son of God back together to a recognition of oneness that transcends bodies, transcends physicality, transcends the things of space and time. (JT - 1)

Therefore, time has been corrected, for the weaver of that tapestry is the Holy Spirit, Whose wisdom and guidance never errs. And the Holy Spirit uses everything every fragmented mind could ever think or create as the very means for steering that mind back to God, until the Light begins to dawn and the Call to Awaken is heard.

Many have looked at some of your past lives as you would call them and you have realized that you've been on this journey for awhile, doing a lot of preparatory work, healing work and all of that, getting closer and closer and closer. That happened when there was a turning about in the seat of the soul, the whisper of the Holy Spirit was heard. The call of your own soul to awake seeped through into consciousness. And you began to seek different things. You began to ask yourself questions in a new way. And you began to feel pulled, first in this direction and then in that, then into this lifetime and then into that, looking for something that you thought you knew, and then at the same time looking for something without even knowing why you are looking. And yet, something begins to compel you – and you all know that feeling.

Precious friends, in the end of perfect remembrance the things of time are put away and the purpose of time re-translated by the Holy Spirit, which is the extension of the Mind of God into the Mind of the Son, holding the thought of perfect union so that it could never be lost. Time has completed its holy purpose and the things of time are no longer valued and can then be gently put away. It is hard for the mind to comprehend that time, and yet it comes quickly.

Miracles.. .the purpose of a miracle is that it shortens the need for time. It is why when one is working with somebody, doing some healing work, and there is a breakthrough, it is like a quantum leap in which there is no distance traveled. You simply move from here to here, that fast. A miracle has occurred that has shortened the need for time, and that mind that has experienced the healing has saved countless lifetimes.

The miracle minimizes the need for time. . . . The miracle thus has the unique property of abolishing time to the extent that it renders the interval of time it spans unnecessary. There is no relationship between the time a miracle takes and the time it covers. The miracle substitutes for learning that might have taken thousands of years. . . . The miracle shortens time by collapsing it, thus eliminating certain intervals within it. It does this, however, within the larger temporal sequence.

Because miracles shorten the need for time, you as a miracle worker are very much involved with the process of ending the need for time through the extension of your Love.

And that is what creates the quickening, the acceleration that so many minds and hearts are feeling these days. It's in the air. And yes, you would look out and see so many that don't seem to be aware of it at all. That doesn't matter. All minds are joined, and as one mind awakens, it makes it easier for the second. And when two are awake, numbers three through six will awaken very quickly. When all of them together awaken, seven through fifty awaken much more quickly. And that is how the Son of God returns. Not in a fiery chariot from the sky, but re-birthed in an ancient remembrance in the minds of the heretofore fragmented Son of God.

You Can Give To This World The Gift Of The Possibility Of Remembrance
by Being The One Who Remembers!

And in that day and in that hour when what you might call critical mass is achieved, there will be a sound heard. It will not be a physical sound. It will be a sound heard within the consciousness, within the soul, signaling the end of the world, the end of the need for time. But just yet there will not be calamity, as some have predicted in terms of Biblical predictions about the end of the world. But rather, the things of time themselves will be translated into that which most gloriously reflects the perfections of Heaven, so that they can be mirrored back in complete consciousness into every aspect of the Holy Mind of the Son of God. And, beholding his own splendor, the Son will be remembered in its entirety as One.

And you could say, if you want to paint a picture, that all minds will say together, "I and my Father are One and I put aside the things of this world – of fear, of doubt, of seriousness." And there indeed will be a period of peace, of, call it dancing in the streets, in which you will play out one final dream: a dream still of bodies but of bodies that begin to be transfigured, filled, radiating more and more the Light of the Truth that the body was originally meant to conceal. And the body itself shall become a Light, and separation will be seen no more and minds will join as one beyond the reaches of space and time.

And that which has been created collapses, dissolves in a Light incomprehensible and a joy for which there are no words. Time indeed, beloved friends, will come to an end, that the things of eternity shall be remembered fully.

How, then, to speak of such a moment beyond time, when the Son has returned to his rightful place? No words can touch that. But I can say that the greatest of ecstasies, the greatest of pleasures that any mind could ever experience in this world – and I would place within that category my own transfiguration – pale to insignificance to that moment when all things are returned to God and there is naught but perfect union. And Light that begets Light radiates out and fills a circle that has no circumference, neither beginning nor end.

Indeed time will end, that eternity may be re-birthed completely. And it is you who will be present with me in that moment, and we will be together with all of our brothers and sisters, indeed – Light dissolving into Light beyond the comprehension of this world that has been dreamed into being from one thought: separation from God.

Now what do you do in the meantime? Play and celebrate what comes to pass by being the one who chooses to remember now. A little ahead of everybody else. And what happens when you choose to remember? You become a miracle worker and you shorten the need for time. Your remembrance is a remembrance that is a gift to everyone seeking to remember. So whenever you are led to feel, "What possibly could I ever do? What could I ever give anyone?" understand that you can give to this world the gift of the possibility of remembrance by being the one who remembers.

The basic decision of the miracle-minded is not to wait on time any longer than is necessary. Time can waste as well as be wasted. The miracle worker, therefore, accepts the time-control factor gladly. He recognizes that every collapse of time brings everyone closer to the ultimate release from time, in which the Son and the Father are one. Equality does not imply equality now. When everyone recognizes that he has everything, individual contributions to the Sonship will no longer be necessary.<sup>2</sup>

God's miracle workers, whom I direct until we are all united in the joy of the Kingdom. I will direct you to wherever you can be truly helpful, and to whoever can follow my guidance through you.<sup>3</sup>

Heaven Waits On Your Choice To Believe It, To Acknowledge It and To Live It!

You are already everything I ever represented to anyone, and in reality you are but a brother, a sister, a friend who comes to everyone you see in your life as a messenger from God. And God is but Love and therefore has but one message to deliver. Never limit what I can do through you, for if you would but choose to join with me and I am but a manifestation of the Holy Spirit – understand well that there are no limitations to what I can do through you when you are willing to be the witness of miracles in your life. And when you have seen those miracles, you must then acknowledge that they have been done unto you. No one comes save but to answer their own Call to Awaken. (JT - S&HR)

Understand well at the level of the soul: you have come to answer your own call and you have chosen me to be the brother and the friend through whom you will be finally willing to receive the reflection of the Truth that lies in you. Because in a part of you, you know that there is safety in abiding with me and you have not yet extended that sense of safety to abiding with yourself.

And that is why I have said that in all things – and I give this as my promise unto you – I will give you the fullness of my strength until yours is as certain as mine. And then indeed we walk together. And where two of us have gathered together the power of Christ becomes unlimited forever.

Walk with me then with every breath, every thought, and I shall not leave you until together every mind and every heart has reawakened to the presence of Christ that dwells within us all. Remember that miracles shorten the need for time. Think not then that together miracles cannot bring an end to the need for time itself.

And when you have chosen with me to embrace the whole of creation as your very body, when you have seen that this planet is not outside of the need of your love, when you see that your brother or sister or your sons or daughters are but aspects of your own self and need to be embraced with the Love of Christ that dwells with you and you are the only one that can bring it to them, when you join with me in embracing the whole of all worlds that have ever arisen, then indeed together we will translate those worlds into the reflections of the Kingdom of Heaven and time will be no more. Suffering will have been forgotten. Birth and death shall be no more.

And for a brief moment that is wholly out of time, all things will rejoice and reflect the Light of the Perfection of God's Love for His Creation. And His Creations will reflect what He intended when He brought you into being, and then the purpose of Creation Itself will have been fulfilled and there will be naught but Light and Light eternal: That which is, that which was and that which forever shall be. Heaven waits on your choice to believe It, to acknowledge It and to live It.

Nothing, Nothing Is Impossible To Minds That Have Joined In Love!!!

The only barrier between your world and the Kingdom of Heaven is the choice to hold on to perceptions created not in Heaven but in the world. And your brothers and sisters wait for you to arise from sleep and to never tolerate error in yourself again, so that you become that one who walks through this world as the presence of Love and thereby extends to everyone you see an opportunity to make a new choice.

For if you would have your brother and sister awakened from the chains that bind them, you must release your own first. You are your brother's salvation, as he is yours. Join with me then on the park bench, and indeed I will come and I will talk with you whenever you want. And indeed, through you, if you are willing, we will awaken every mind of our brothers whom we love. Why not? You've tried everything else.

Wherever you are, wherever you are, the fullness of the Kingdom is present. All power is given unto you in that moment to be the Light that lights the world. You may think you will have to be a little crazy at first. Perfectly okay. It may feel like you are dreaming just a little bit. When you have been asleep dreaming this long, waking from the dream seems like a dream. Don't let it stop you. Don't say, "Oh, I've got to get my feet back on the ground. Only angels can fly." That's just a perception.

Be at peace in all things, for I am with you. And the promise that I gave you then in the drama of time has never changed. I am with you always. All you have to do is open the shutters and look through the window of your perceptions and you will see me sitting on that bench – legs crossed, palms open, smiling – and you will notice that there is space on it for you.

All I have ever asked is that you allow me to be a friend. No false piety is required. No great chants and no great cathedrals. You are the temple of Christ. And because I love you, because I love you, I abide in unlimitedness so that I can be with you always. I can be with all of you always, as you can be with me always, and nothing, nothing is impossible to minds that have joined in Love.

My peace I give unto you. My blessings I would shower upon you and do. Some of you like to deflect it a little bit. That's okay. Somebody else will pick up the spray. But I do want you to know that no matter what choice you make, I will never stop the shower of that Love upon you. Sooner or later you will give up the game of the ego and accept it, and then all things shall be made new. No longer a journey to the Kingdom, but the glory of a journey within it.

Carry then, peace in your Hearts and give it away, for in your giving you will receive. Love the world as yourself and you will have manifested the knowledge of what it means to live as though you were not an ego. Indeed.

But remember the first principle in this course; there is no order of difficulty in miracles.<sup>4</sup>

Peace to the precious and holy and only begotten offspring of Light divine, the One that I call "Abba", because that Love is so personally yours as it is mine. Peace to the great Rays of Light that shine forever and touch every corner of creation. That is who you are. Nothing more and certainly nothing less. Be, therefore, who you are and your Light will light this world, and together you will know that there has never been an order of difficulty in miracles.

Amen.
