Embrace The Purpose and Reason For Your Being!

The theme that we wish to bring unto you is this: Make a decision – right now – to view time differently. Put on the eyes of the Holy Spirit – right where you are, right now. Do not just read what is said, but actually decide to do it.¹

Look around the place you find yourself in – the body. If you are with others at this time, notice them. Notice all things.

You are not in the world at all. You are a Disciple of Christ. You have chosen, by Grace, to awaken from illusion, and to cultivate yourself, with support and help, into being ever more a mature soul that radiates the Light and Love of Christ, even while in time.

Time, then, must be seized and seen to be of great value; each and every moment is not a mistake. There is nothing “idle” about it. You are the one who is free to use that moment to be informed by the Voice for Love, to learn ever more deeply, to surrender the value of fear, safety, personal survival, and all of the rest, and to dissolve through faith into the Voice for Love.²

From this moment, decide to see time differently, to seize the opportunity to train the mind to be vigilant and aware. There is much occurring that may yet seem unseen to you – too subtle to grasp. You call it, “being unaware.” But the journey from unawareness to awareness begins with the decision to walk through each moment of the day knowing the Truth of who you are – to embrace the purpose and reason for your being, and then to ask the Holy Spirit to make all things known and clear, in alignment with the Voice for Love.

The third axiom or principle could be encapsulated in this way:

I do not live any ordinary moments.
With each breath, my experiences are the stepping stones laid before me of God, to guide me home.

Therefore, I will bring awareness to each moment and allow it to teach me how to forgive, how to embrace, how to Love and, therefore, how to live fully.³

The body becomes something that you no longer possess. The thoughts that you hold become meaning-less. The context of every moment is given over to something new. And the decision to see time differently leads you into the cultivation of a way of being that is different and new. And eventually, it will move from a mere intellectual idea into something known in the depth of the soul and expressed through every pore of the skin, while the body lasts:

I am the Christ. There is only That One, and I am dissolved in and as That One.²

Call me not great, for only God is worthy of awe. That which I do, I do not of myself, but the Father does these things through me.⁴

I am One who merely loves Love so deeply that I am willing to surrender all things that I once knew to be my self, that my true Self who is Christ, informs my every decision, my every gesture, my every extension of the good, the holy, and the beautiful.

You Will Discover Perfect Peace, Perfect Freedom, Perfect Joy and Uninterrupted Communion With All Of Creation!

Imagine, then, being able to experience whatever arises without losing the sense of spaciousness and innocence and ease that you now experience in fleeting moments. For instance, know you the experience when things are going well – hmm – outside, around you, and you’re singing a happy tune, and life seems to be moving ahead? Imagine that same quality of trust, and of faith, and of certainty of purpose, even when the buildings are crumbling around you, and the bank account has gone dry – being able to look at those events with the same sense of innocence and wonder with which you would look into the eyes of your beloved.⁵

For, you see, such a quality of awareness is Perfect Mastery. Within it is discovered Perfect Peace and Perfect Freedom, Perfect Joy, and uninterrupted communion with all of Creation. And if you would well receive it, that quality of feeling intimately one with all of Creation is what you have been seeking as a soul since first the identification with a creation, called ego, began. For that creation, again, created conflict and separation. And everything you have ever attempted to do since has been an attempt to overcome separation, to gain back what you felt you had lost. It’s just that the ways you have sought to do it don’t work.⁶

It takes great courage and great faith to look upon all of your creations – your thoughts, your feelings, your manifestations – with Love, and with the innocence of a child.⁷

The eye of the needle that separates you in your consciousness from the world of conflict and fear and guilt and unworthiness – that world and the World of the Truth of the Kingdom lie side by side, within your own mind. And the eye of the needle that one must pass through is the re-cultivation of the innocence of a child. It is for this reason that I often taught:

Become again as a little child, to enter the Kingdom.⁶

The cultivation of The Way of the Heart is that pathway whereby you deliberately, consciously choose to become again as an innocent child, as you were in the beginning, before you ever created, and then incarnated into, this dimension of experience that seems to be so permeated by a sense of conflict and separation.

Simply Ask Of Holy Spirit To Bring Correction To The Mind, So That It Becomes More Firmly Established!

To choose the end of the dream which has been the whole of your experience is to awaken to what has always been and what will be eternally. To choose to awaken is to put aside the dream that can serve you no longer. And yet it cannot be put aside with the hope that this will make things better for you. To choose the Kingdom from such a perspective is but to continue the illusion of separation. For the awakened Son looks and with His looking He laughs, for He sees that in Truth the long journey has never been. For when the Light of the heavenly Father is allowed to blossom in the core of the Heart, all suffering is dissolved, all longing ceases. And what has seemed at times such a frightful and difficult journey simply is no more. (ARC)

And then the awakened Son looks out upon all things and He recognizes that all things are already contained within Him. That in Truth He is one with every blade of grass, with every gentle breeze, with every loving thought and with all beings whether on this plane or another.

In Truth you have never been contained within a body, for all bodies are forever contained within you. And yet the simplicity of what alone is True can seem so difficult to the mind which has habitually insisted upon separation. To choose separation is to continue the worlds of your experience. To choose the Reality of the Kingdom wholly and without reservation is to awaken into a Light incomprehensible.

It is a Light that forever must transcend all thoughts, all beliefs, all doctrine and all theologies. For what words have ever contained all that the Father is? He is in Truth, Mystery beyond all Mystery and it is closer to you than your own breath. And, indeed, without His presence you would not be. And yet the Father waits patiently, allowing His child the dream that would be dreamt. He whispers quietly into the ear of the sleeping child, assuring him that it is indeed but a dream. And the child will awaken, for that which begins in time must assuredly ends in time, but that which is eternal has neither beginning nor end.

Each and every one has a role to play, a part that has been assigned. It has been with you since the moment your soul was birthed, and the hour and the day comes when each must turn within and finally allow that part to flower and be played through them. And in whatever way that you come to it, you will understand the words that I spoke, seemingly so long ago, when I was confronted with the finality of my drama, the finality of my own teaching...what some would call the crucifixion. I've never desired to emphasize that part of it. That was just stepping-stones to the Resurrection. And those words are simply this:

Nevertheless, not my will, but Thine be done – the Will of the one Mind that is but Love. (CD - D&EC)

And when Love guides the way, miracles sprout before you. And not one obstacle is left in front of you. It dissolves before you reach it.

*Simply ask of Holy Spirit to bring that correction to the mind, so that it becomes more firmly established. And in this way, almost unbeknownst to you, miracles come to replace the struggle and the strife of life. You become very, very humble because you realize none of your perceptions have ever been true or accurate – except the ones inspired by the gentleness of Love that is totally inclusive of all of life and embraces unconditionally everyone and everything.*
(CD - GR1)

In that moment – and you’ve all experienced at least a few of those moments – peace comes. Peace. A peace that passes our understanding and could never hope to be explained in the languages of this world. And that peace bespeaks a way of living that is available to everyone at all times – a way of living that requires no planning in the way the world would think of this. No striving, no doubt, no anxiety. A way of living that flows gently, in which you smile a little bit more often, in which you talk a little bit less. A way of living that is marked by Grace. And Grace that is lived will reveal to you your True Reality.

Grace, when fully lived, reveals to you that you are the only begotten of God, Christ Eternal, unbounded forever. And that you participate in that Mind and that energy and that Love – call it what you will with me and with every mind, every brother and sister who has ever chosen to set aside the world, and to allow the Kingdom to be lived from within.

And so the only curriculum, you see, is to choose to hear the Voice for Love – to be the vehicle of forgiveness. The curriculum ends where the dream of separation began – as a thought.

I Come To Abide With You To Bridge The Gap That Seems To Yet Separate You From Me!

I come because I love you. I come because I am your friend. And of all the things that I could possibly choose to do with the unlimited power of consciousness given equally unto me of my Father as it was given unto you, of all of the places and dimensions and worlds in which I could reside in this moment, in Truth, I come to abide with you, in this manner, as together we utilize a creation device, a communication device – you would call it a body – in order to bridge the gap that seems to yet separate you from me.

My mission then was as it is now: to assist anyone who would choose to awaken to cross the final hurdle and to step from the threshold of darkness into the presence of eternal Light to be filled by the presence of the Father and to be transformed by what is indeed incomprehensible. And yet the transformation of which I speak cannot be comprehended by the world. And yet it is known by the pure of Heart who have come to see that the world can offer no fulfillment; it never has and it never will. (ARC)

There is not one thing to be gained from the world around you. For what can be gained from illusion? And if you will quench the thirst that comes not of the body but of the soul, simply turn to me and hear me, not with your ears but with your Heart. For here in Truth I eternally abide forever united with you, and we are in the Father even as the Father is within us.

Indeed, I came forth upon this plane and demonstrated simply not merely the Truth of my own being but the Truth of yours. The whole of that experience is but as a mirror that anyone looking might see. And what they would see is but themselves. Thus does the awakened Son forever proclaim "I and my Father are One."

There Is No Greater Joy Than To Be But The Perfect Servant of The Will of Our Father!

It is not by accident that I come forth in this manner and it is not by accident that I work now in these last days in many ways to touch the sleeping child of God. And yet always have I been with you. Always have I known you. And always have you known me. I have been but a thought away, and yet for many of you that thought has created innumerable lifetimes of denial, of pain, of seeming adventure. And yet now in this moment you have chosen in the depth of your soul to hear once again what I have spoken to you, to hear once again that which alone is Truth, that which alone is the Reality of your Being.

Where I am, there is naught but peace. Where I am, there is naught but simple joy. Where I am, there is naught but Love. Where I am, the Father is. Here do I abide and here I would have you come.

For there is no greater joy than to be but the perfect servant of the Will of our Father, who alone knows the fruit of all things, who alone knows the purpose of our action. And yet the world would have you believe that you are the maker of your reality. But I say this unto you, you have never made your Reality; you have only served to make your illusion.

For the Father alone is the maker of Reality. And it is a great Truth that the soul cannot serve two masters.

Those among you who are feeling limitation in your life, first recognize that you are choosing it. Let there be no guilt in this. But embrace it, speak the Truth of who you are, and it will come to be no more. For it has never been the Will of our Father that his child should abide in lack, in suffering, in doubt, in confusion. For the Son was made to be but the Perfect Servant of Light and of Love and of sacred creativity. For the Father longs to give wholly of Himself, and it is through the Son that the Mystery which the Father is can be allowed form, simply for the joy of it.

Who among you in Truth would rather choose pain than joy? Who among you in Truth choose suffering and doubt and lack, when with but a simple choice you could abide in the Kingdom and embrace all that the Kingdom offers you, peace eternal, joy forever fulfilled, delight beyond all comprehension?

The sleeping Son of God is soon to awaken. It is this stirring that you have felt in your Hearts and which in Truth has brought you to this time. For the end of the age is upon us.

Choose With Me The Light That You Are!

Beloved, Holy Son of God, choose now in this moment to remember the Truth of who you are. And if you would but do this and gaze upon your brothers and sisters, you will delight in one's simple recognition. But never in Truth do you look upon another, for you see naught but yourself. And when you look upon your brother or sister, would you not choose to see the Light within them undistorted? And know this well when you choose to do this, you have chosen to participate in the work that the Father would have us do. And you have allowed your brother or sister the opportunity to remember. For you have given up insisting that they be less than who they are. In this simple task there is great power.

And each and every one of you could transform your world and, therefore, the whole of the worlds of mankind, if you would but choose in each moment to abide in the Reality of your own Being and to pursue the Reality of the Son in all others. It is with this simple choice that the peace that indeed must forever pass all understanding can be made manifest upon the earth.

Within you is a Light that can dissolve all shadow. Within you is a Light that can heal all wounds.

You are the awakened and the only begotten Son of the Father. In Truth, begotten before all worlds, the maker of all worlds, the experience of all deeds and in these days the one through whom the Kingdom shall be remembered. Further, darkness can deny Light; it cannot defeat it. And now is the time upon this your blessed earth to remove the shutters from the windows of your Heart and to live the Truth of who you are, fearing not the perceptions of others. For where you go, I Am. And where I Am, the Father is.

Can you and will you choose in each and every moment to acknowledge the Truth that lies within your Heart? For the words that I would speak are not mine but yours. They live already within you. And no words that the world could shout to you can blind the radiance in which you abide. Your only task, and indeed that for which you have chosen to come forth into these times, is to acknowledge wholly before every breath that you are the only begotten Son of God. And as you choose to do this, you will indeed look out upon a world transfigured and you will behold naught but the radiant splendor of the Son that dwells in the Heart of all.

And it is permissible in this time and even in this moment to acknowledge within yourselves and with one another that all life is but one life. Never in Truth have you ever gazed upon another save when you chose to see through the eyes of the world. Now are you held lovingly in the arms of the Father; therefore, fear not for no reprisal will be felt, no incrimination will be made against the meek who shall inherit the earth. For where Light is formed, darkness cannot abide. And where Light chooses Light, darkness is no more. Choose with me the Light you are! Let not one moment pass from the time you awaken in the morning until that time that the heavenly Father calls you to Himself and the body slumbers – let not a moment pass in which you do not choose to abide with Me, in Me and as Me. For we are eternally but One.

Now The Time Of Acknowledgment Is In Truth Upon Us!

Many of you know well the journeys that you have taken, the roads you have chosen to travel. Others among you but feel your many experiences past, gently touching your awareness that comes to you in your sleep and your momentary glimmerings.

And now the end of all journeying is upon us. All of you have known me. All of you have come to me. All of you have sought me that you would know the Father. And I would speak this one Truth to you: your journey has ended and you have only to recognize the Truth of what I now share with you. Will you choose to acknowledge what you know? Will you choose to look upon one another and allow that smile that can only be born of True recognition to emerge? Would you choose wholly to abide one with the other in the Light that the Kingdom is?

Let not your Hearts be given over to false piety. For the most arrogant of acts is to believe that you are separate from God, and that you are other than the Son. If you would know goodness, then be goodness. If you would know the unfathomable giving that is the Love of the Father, then be that unfathomable giving. Who, among your brothers and sisters, is not worthy of beholding the presence of the Son?

For where you are the Son is, without limitation and without boundary. Be this; teach this! Give to your brothers and sisters the one and only thing that in Truth they are seeking, though it be masked in many forms. For never has the sleeping Son sought anything but to awaken from His dream and to abide wholly and eternally in the arms of the Father. And now the end of all illusion is upon us.

Final Doorway

Unburden yourself from doubt. Allow the mind to rest in silence. Allow the Heart to rest in emptiness. For when the mind is stilled from its grasping and its judging, and when the Heart is emptied of all that the world has placed within it, then does the Father make His abode with you. Then is the Son reawakened and the Kingdom is and the world ceases to be.

He that understands these words has in Truth come to where I am and we abide eternally as one. Here, then, is the final doorway. Here, then, the threshold gently crossed. Here, then, is that peace that in Truth passes all understanding. Herein I am. Herein you are.

There is not a moment of your experience in which you do not already abide in the arms of the Father. There is not a moment of your experience in which His Will for you is not being made manifest. But the sleeping son who would insist on seeking the Father, rushes by Him and sees Him not. But the Son that would rest in peace, giving up all thoughts of what the world is and what it should be, abides in stillness and in stillness recognizes that the Father is with him and then great laughter comes. Not that laughter born from the world but a laughter that transcends all of time and all of space.

It is a laughter that echoes through the whole of the cosmos. It is a laughter that uplifts and transfigures every jot and tittle of this magnificent creation. Accept then the gift freely given. Accept the Reality that you have held it within the palms of your hands throughout the whole of time. And now the time of acknowledgment is in Truth upon us!!!
