Extend The Love Of Christ and Miracles Will Flow!

You are never without God. Before there was a single thing, there was but the Father and out of nothing He created His only Creation: you. You, the changeless and perfect and eternal and unbounded and unlimited and powerful Son of God. And He said, “Go and do likewise,” and then you held the thought, “Hmm, perhaps I’ll create unlike my Father. Might be fun.” And from that has come forth all of the worlds of your complexities, with all of its limitations and all of its self-doubts. (JT - E)

Wash them from you. Indeed, receive that Light and that Power. Brush every doubt from you. Trust that Power and that Light. It can come to the point where you feel as though it were literally picking you up and putting you where you needed to be, like a wind behind your back pushing into the sail of your body, carrying the boat of your life first here and then there. And that wind that pushes will guide you perfectly. It will not be chaotic at all, and you will find that everything you touch can turn to gold in one way or another.

And when you choose first to abide in the Kingdom of Heaven and declare unto the Father that you are ready to receive His abundance, He will not hide it from you. And you shall become one through whom nothing but miracles come forth – miracle after miracle after miracle after miracle – and people will say, “How did that happen in your life?” And you will look at them and say, “I don’t know. My Father did it for me. I gave up all my jobs and just went to work for Dad.”

It’s not a bad job. The hours can be long. The worlds can seem long, and yet everything is provided. You might even end up feeding five thousand people with a few loaves of bread and a few fishes. And when you are done doing that, you will say, “Wow! My Father is amazing.” You will not beat your own chest and say, “Ah, I’ve learned to do that.” Do you see the difference? To become again as an innocent child who just allows miracles to happen through them, without even needing to know how they happen, but only choosing to recognize that they do and can happen and should happen. So that the day will arrive in which you see that “My God, a miracle hasn’t happened in the last hour. I must be really off base. Have I let an idle negative thought creep into my mind?” That is what cuts off the flow. Never think that there is such a thing as an idle thought. For what has given birth to the whole of your world can hardly be said to be idle.

Therefore, be vigilant. Choose well the thoughts you think, and think only in terms of Light and Love and unlimitedness, and miracles will happen through you. And please promise me always – those that will choose to allow me to join with them effortlessly as they go through their life, that together we might serve the awakening of our brothers and sisters. Please do me one favor: never in any way, shape or form, limit the miracles that I can do through you. For when you see those miracles occur through you, you will have to acknowledge that they have already been done to you. And the miracles that you see, will teach you the Truth of the miracle – that the miracle shortens the need for time. And miracles accelerate the shortening of time.

It's like a magnet that draws the whole process of creation in what some have called the evolution and the playing out of all of these dramas. It shortens it, and the shorter it gets, the faster it moves. Some are experiencing that in your life. "Everything's picking up speed. Oh, my head is spinning." Let it. Let your head spin until you realize you can't figure it out with your mind, but you can allow it through your Heart.

You Have Been Awakened By A Miracle and Have Sought To Awaken Even More Deeply!

Indeed. And the day will come when the final miracle is performed within this drama, and the drama shall cease and the whole of the Sonship will open its eyes and say, "Ha. It was all but a dream, and now I am home with my Father." And then for a short moment there will be but the perfection of a happy dream seen upon this plane. And when it is recognized, even that dream will serve its purpose.

What then can be said of that moment when the need for bodies, when the need for physical forms is finished? How can you use language to talk about such a thing? Poetry might work the best. And then the Sonship returns to the Father, and one sees not where the Sonship ends and the Father begins. And everywhere there is but the perfect Light of Love. It is not the erasing of awareness, but it is the transcendence of all limitation, and the dream of suffering and pain is erased forever and there is but the Peace of God. Not as a reflection, but in Itself and as Itself.

Some may have in your dreams and in your prayers and in your meditations have been shown that Vision or a reflection of it, and it has touched you so deeply that your whole life has been changed. You have been awakened by a miracle and you have sought to awaken even more deeply. And day by day you have learned to give your life over to that Intelligence and that Love that seems to be invisible, seems to be beyond you. And with each passing day a lightness comes. A Joy begins to come. You smile a little bit more often. You read fewer books. You debate things an awful lot less. You become a little quieter perhaps, and you dance a little more. You feel, in a way, that you are becoming ignorant – at least in the sense of the world. Divine stupidity.

Something has touched you. A dream perhaps, sent to you by God? Yes indeed, but a part of your own mind has awakened to what it has always known, because you were there with me in the beginning before the one thought of separation was held in the Mind of Christ that seems to fragment into many parts. And from that moment I have worked without ceasing to use whatever you chose to create as the means to serve your own awakening. To bring you back, in a sense, to seeing that the Mind of Christ has never in Truth been fragmented at all. That it has been but a dream.

Now, that does not mean that dreams do not have a power to keep you entranced and lead you to beat your head against the wall. Of course they do. You all awaken in your mornings having had what you call your nightmares or your bad dreams, but then you look and you see, "Oh, it was just a dream," and you let it go.

And so, too, is awakening, when you stop trying to figure out why you've had to suffer so much. When you stop trying to figure out what your karma is. When you have just given it all up. Then you understand it has been but a dream.

Relax, Give Up The Struggle Of Trying To Be Perfect and Realize You Already Are!

All of your striving and all of your suffering and all of your doubt has been a dream. And from the moment you chose to sleep, the Bridge that the Father has created for us – called the Holy Spirit – has looked upon the world of your dream but has never bought into it, but has learned to speak your language out of compassion and Love to serve as a Bridge that brings you from dreams to wakefulness.

That is why I have said: enlightenment or salvation is no more difficult than opening your eyes and seeing not through the prisms of the perceptions of your mind, but with the unconditional Love that resides in its fullness and has never been changed, who resides in its fullness in your own Heart. You are the Son of God. Let yourself be able to know it. It will feel like a miracle at first, perhaps as a gift not rightly earned. But what could the meaning of Grace be, save that you do not have to earn it?

The gift of Grace cannot be earned. There is not one thing you can do in all of your techniques to earn the right to your Father's Grace. So relax. Give up the struggle of trying to be perfect and realize you already are. It is Love that heals, and Love brings about a deep sense of perfect relaxation. You will actually be able to walk down your street and not have your mind spinning in whirlwinds. Know you that feeling? So much so, that you get across town and you don't even know how you got there. Your mind has been on your relationship, on your career, on your childhood, on the problems of the world, spinning, spinning, spinning.

It is possible to walk in your world when nothing arises in the mind save that which serves the extension of Love, so that when you are not actively doing that, you are perfectly at peace.

Now, how does that come about? You must sit in meditation and sternly concentrate twenty hours a day and put great effort into it. You must seek out every guru and teacher that this world knows. Never eat more than two morsels of rice in a given day.

Can you begin to see how every such teaching or belief must be based on the insistence that salvation has to be earned and that you must be other than a Son of God? It's all from the ego. It has nothing to do with the Kingdom, nothing to do with it at all. How then is that achieved? By allowing it. By choosing Love instead of fear. So that when you walk down your street, you already know where you are going and you already know why. It will take care of itself when you get there.

Know That Everything Serves Its Purpose!

Choose Love and abide at peace. Feel the breath as it moves through the body and feel the miracle of it all. Don't analyze it. Just be with it. And the mind will become as placid as a lake. And when you arrive at your destination, you will know what to say. And when you leave that destination and return home, leave the experience behind you. It has served its purpose. Why would you want to cling to it?

Now, this is a subtle point. I am not saying never to have the memory, because there is nothing wrong with remembering loving thoughts. And what created that experience if not the coming together of two minds, who for a moment realized that perhaps the body could just be a vehicle of communication through innocence and Love, before you got enmeshed in personality, before your ego got involved with wondering what you would get from the other person.

Every loving experience you have ever had is etched within you and you need not bring it back to yourself, nor do you need to replace it. Nor do you need to look for another source of it. Come to abide with me in peace and know that everything serves its purpose, and even the communication through the body that seems to extend such a blissful Love, that arises in time, will end in time. That is certain. Count it then as a blessing and release it. For it is only when you are continually emptying your cup that your Father can replace it and refill it with something even grander.

Oh, The Miracles That Can Come From Your Love When You Truly Choose To Be Present!

You can join with anyone and look deeply into their eyes and see the Light of Christ, and be so present that the whole rest of your world no longer exists. And they will feel the Power of that Love, and they will feel gratitude for it because you will feel like a master gardener who has just placed the most delicious water into the soils of their garden. And they will feel renewed, and you won't have had to say a single thing. That's how powerful your glance can become. When one speaks to you, by all means listen. Hear not the words themselves, but also feel the energy behind the words. Feel and hear every subtle nuance of the way the sentence is formed. Feel the melody of the voice. Be present with your Holy brother and sister.

If you want a technique to practice, there is probably not a greater one than that – to truly be present. Oh, the miracles that can come from your Love when you choose to be that way. You cannot begin to imagine that. It is the miracle that heals your world and shortens the need for time.

Look well, then, upon one another. Hear well one another. Love well one another by being the one who chooses to see only Christ – and Christ is seen only in the present. Not in the past and not in the future, but now – here and now. Don't play a tape of seeing all of the times in which you failed to do that. "Oh, I could have done it then. Yes, then too. Oh, there's another one." Know you that movie making? That's perfectly okay, but don't judge yourself for it because it is already healed and forgotten.

See The Christ In The One Before You and You Have Healed Every Past Error!

When you extend Love wholly to the one who you are with, if even it is just for a moment, you have already corrected every failure that you believe existed in your past. Do you understand what I am sharing with you then?

Every time you choose to be so fully present that you extend the Love of Christ and see Christ in the one before you, you have healed every past error. Do you know why? Because the one standing in front of you is the one that you failed with ten years ago. The body is different but there is only one of us really here.

If all minds are joined – and I assure you that they are – to Love the one in front of you is to have loved the one that once you had chosen to hate because your perception was cloudy. That’s how healing comes – through the extension of Love. You cannot fix the past because it is gone. It has already been fixed by Somebody Who doesn’t know how to make errors. Can’t you trust your Father to fix the past?

Never lament it, but look where you are in this moment. Here, right now in this moment, here you can extend Love and heal the Sonship. My goodness, if you really understand that concept you will know that you are free, free to be the Love you were created to be, now. Every moment that you failed in the past the Father just threw over your shoulder and gave you a new moment. He said, “Here. Here, do it again. Try it again. Look, you can get it right. Oops, throw that one away. Bring on another one.”

That is something to rejoice in, and it is something that has been missed in all of your theologies and all of your religions, especially Christianity. That is a religion born out of guilt, that insists on seeing the crucifixion and not the resurrection. It’s why even I was crucified – because those minds did not want to see the resurrection.

You Have Been Renewed By A Light and A Love That Far Transcends The Ability Of The Mind To Comprehend!

Would you choose to see it? Would you choose to live it? Understand that every day is a miracle when you choose it. Every day is a day to celebrate the opportunity that your Father has just given you to extend the perfect and unlimited Love of God.

I don’t know about you, but that always has amazed me, and it makes everything new again. In every moment everything is new. Some know perfectly well that right now there is not a single cell in the body that was there a few short years ago. Where did it go? It’s gone, and you have been remade and renewed by a Light and a Love and a Perfection that far transcends the ability of the mind to comprehend.

There is nothing there that was there say seven years ago except what is changeless – the Child of God, who asks only to be loved.

Now, if you contemplate what I am saying, it will release all seriousness from the mind and you will be going, “Yippee! A chance to Love!” And that’s what it is all about. Every problem you encounter in your life is because of a lack of Love. Somewhere an idle thought, negative thought, has crept into your mind and created a bit of a turning about of energies with a certain consequence, because everything mirrors to you how well you are extending Love, and that is all.

There Is No Time Left For Dawdling By Holding On To Illusory Thoughts!

My ‘Course In Miracles’ is but one tool that you can walk through, only to teach yourself to remember that you have already received it. It is already etched in your Heart. There is not one that has ever studied that work that doesn’t understand every word in it. What creates then the difficulty? The difficulty is that you strive with the mind to understand it instead of allowing the Heart to feel it.

Those that have been studying my ‘Course in Miracles’ understand well that it is a specific teaching device to bring you to peace. And when you know you are at peace, isn’t it time to do something with it? It rather makes sense, doesn’t it? Because in the end you come to see clearly that you cannot wholly be at peace until your brother is at peace, because you are your brother. No one has ever achieved enlightenment and then slipped off into God’s hip pocket going, “Ah, I’m done with that one. Have fun down there. I know it’s a mess, but you’ll get it together sooner or later.” Every master that has awakened has looked upon the world with great compassion, and out of exuberance and Joy has worked ceaselessly to awaken his or her brothers and sisters, and our numbers are growing daily. And those numbers include you because now you know and you know that you know, and there is no time left for dawdling by holding on to illusory thoughts.

The Pendulum Is Beginning To Swing and You Have Come To Help It Pick Up Speed!

Be, therefore, the peace that you are and you are the Light of the world. And indeed I have come only to share with you my Love, to embrace you with my arms, not of a body but the arms of my Heart that have stretched out to include the whole of creation. You are the one I Love. You are the ones that I Love above all of creation. You are the ones that I have extended myself for since before the beginning of time, and I have called out unto you. I have knocked upon the door of your Heart without ceasing because you are the one that I Love, and I want you to come to where I am because I need you. Because your brothers and sisters need us. They need our joy and our laughter and our play and our certainty and our abundance and our wisdom. They need our gaiety. They need our smiles. They need our Love.

Great is my Love for you that have suffered so much. Great is my admiration for your courage in choosing to come into this most complex and insane world, because it has taken that insanity as far as it can go, and the pendulum is beginning to swing and you have come to help it pick up speed.

Great is my admiration for the Light of Christ that dwells in each of you, and I know that you will go forth with great confidence and great joy and laughter above all things, and you will fulfill your function in the Atonement. Your Father will not hide it from you. You need only ask with an open Heart and a quiet mind and the willingness to have set aside and to allow it: the illusion of yourself that you thought you were – weak and frail and tired and confused. No more.

We are indeed of one Spirit and one Heart and one Mind, and our unity is restored on Earth as it is in Heaven. And I don't know about you, but I am not going to stop until the whole of this world reflects the unity of Heaven. What other game in town is there worth playing? There isn't one. There has never really been one. But you tried to create some to replace it. (JT - E)

You are worth to me all of eternity, and all the worlds that have arisen and pass away, I would not cling to one of them if it meant giving up one of you.

Recognize That In Reality "I and My Father Are One, Now!" Not In The Future.
But Now, Right Here and Right Now!!!

If you are willing to receive all that has been shared and to take it deeply within yourself, the end of the journey becomes immediately certain. Immediately. And miracles will come unto you: the miracles of healing and the miracle of perfect peace. Yes. (JT - FF)

And all that is ever asked of you is that you make the simple choice to be that peace. To relinquish, to let go of your striving, your grasping, your anxieties, your fears, your doubts. And therefore to begin – and I mean begin every day, until it becomes the beginning of every moment – to begin in the recognition that in Reality "I and my Father are one, now." Not in the future. Not in a distant past that I somehow managed to throw away by accident with the garbage. But now, right here and right now! (JT - A)

There is nowhere to go and nothing to achieve save to use the Power given unto you to acknowledge that "I and my Father are one." And I walk in a safe world. And as I walk, that One walks with me, and I walk only in Love and each step I take takes me into the extension of Love, and I choose to think only loving thoughts. And when my mind is given to memories, I choose only loving memories and I release the rest because everything that has not been loving has been born of illusions of fear."

You Hold The Power To Be The Presence Of The Peace Of God!

Can you imagine what it would be like to live one day in which each step you take, you feel it? And each thought you think, you witness it and you are with it? No more idle thoughts just running about in the mind – you direct them wholly from that place in you that is Love. What would it be like to begin from this moment and to allow yourself to recognize that no matter what the circumstances seem to be around you, you hold the power to be the presence of the peace of God?

What would it be like to live one day, just one day, in which everyone you thought of, everyone you looked upon, you embrace totally with the Love of Christ and did not let a single perception of your own making boomerang on you to create in you the illusion of the belief that another could hold the power to change your countenance? What would that be like?

Hear my Gospel and receive it. Become the Gospel so that wherever you are and wherever you walk, the Gospel is being radiated to other minds. Not by preaching on street corners but by extending Love. Indeed. (JT - E)

For God is but Love and so are you! (WL 171)
