

The Only Way To Make The Quantum Leap Is To Make It!

From A Dialogue With Students
Student comments or questions are in brackets [...]

Index

	Page
The Only Way To Make The Quantum Leap Is To Make It!	3
[How do we get from here to there?]	4
[How do we make that quantum leap in understanding?]	4
When Will The Quantum Leap Happen?	5
[There are changes in my perception. A clearing of feeling separate, feeling alone. And that still comes sometimes, but much less. It's difficult for me to mentally . . .]	5
[Am I doing anything? Well, I do say many times during the day, "I choose the Kingdom. I choose joy." Even if I am not feeling it, I still say it. And I am making those choices of remembering to say them much more often.]	6
[I hear the words but my soul doesn't understand.]	7
[I thought I was further ahead.]	7
[I thought the drama of that Kingdom was foundational for the energy I have been putting into my relationship and my job. And if I didn't have all that drama, I couldn't prove that I was choosing the Kingdom first. But there's been times....]	7
[Yes. A part of me hears that you say I'm creating it, and another part of me thinks I'm just trying to work through it.]	7
[Well, I didn't create Mitch and I didn't create my career, but I'm choosing both.]	7
[I thought I was using them as stepping stones on my journey within the Kingdom. It doesn't sound that way, though. This is where I'm stirring up my muddy waters.]	8
[Well, this is what I struggle with. Am I in this relationship, am I doing this career for myself or for some other reason?]	8
[If I gave enough love to the task of both, that's all that counts because if it wasn't Mitch and if it wasn't this career, it would be somebody else and some other career. And it is only love that counts so why change the drama? Just make sure my intention is pure. But it sounds so depressing right now.]	8

[I feel my life is like parachuting down through the air. I haven't opened my parachute yet. ... How long do I keep going through the air? There's nothing to hang onto.]	9
[I've always looked to you as my savior. That's a big switch for me.]	9
[Well, I'm trying to rely on myself.]	9
[Unworthy of what?]	9
[Oh. Why do I always have that feeling?]	9
[I didn't see it that way. Is there another option?]	10
[You don't remember me saying that?]	10
[Why would mankind choose that, then?]	10
When The Quantum Leap Is Chosen, It Becomes Very, Very Clear!	10
[I don't know anybody who is alive on the planet who is experiencing that kind of connection, and I half believe to experience that kind of connection you leave your physical body and leave this particular world.]	11
The Quantum Leap That Transcends Time!	12
Where Else Could You Possibly Find A Greater Freedom?	13

www.ShantiChristo.com / Home / Study Groups / Facilitator & Study Group Papers

The Only Way To Make The Quantum Leap Is To Make It!

Now we begin. Indeed, greetings unto you, Holy Children of Light divine. My Love I extend unto you and my blessings I would shower upon you. Always, indeed, know that I count it as joy to come forth and abide with you, even as you have chosen out of complete freedom to come and abide with me.

What is it that compels the Son of God into his activities and into his journeys? What is it that compels every choice you have made and, indeed, would make? What is it that brings you once again to the threshold of the Kingdom of Heaven? What is it that would impel you to seek above all things that divine remembrance in which you know that you abide in the arms of God always, that you are that Word made flesh, that you have come to this world not to suffer the world but to heal it, not by fixing it but by being the demonstration of the Mind and Heart that has been healed by the Grace of God? What is it, then, that compels you on your journey? What has brought about the choices you have made? What do you think? Is it a question worth asking? (ARC - EA)

And so, there you sit in a body. Does anyone here believe they exist in a body?

Indeed, it is not that you abide just within a body, for in Truth the body arises and passes away within you. And you abide in many dimensions. It would be appropriate to speak in that term: that in Truth you abide in many dimensions simultaneously. And the only problem with saying that is that simultaneity is a product of a perception that says, "Time is real." In Truth you abide always, every where and every when, and the only difference between recognizing and understanding and seeing the complexity and yet the simplicity of the infinitude of your being.

And what happens often when you believe that you are only the small details of what's going on in one moment of the drama is that you have simply chosen to focus your attention within a very narrow sphere of what is available to you always. You have learned to do that until the habit has become so great that it almost seems incredible to think that with the subtle shift of attention you could witness all worlds and all plains, travel anywhere you would choose and communicate with any mind that has ever existed or ever could possible exist. That is how close you are, closer than your own breath and simply a choice away: to abide in and recognize that you are infinite, unbounded and eternal. And that when the body and the personality that the world has taught you that you are passes away, you remain just as you always have been.

So then, what is taking place? What has brought you to this moment? I say unto you: there is no one that has been compelled by a force or source outside of them. But indeed, the choice has been made jointly to gather together for but a short time, a time in which, if we so choose, there can be a total release of the boundaries that seem to separate us and to separate you one from another. That even in this now moment, can become a Holy Instant in which you see not with the eyes of the world, but with the eyes of the Awakened Christ: to look upon one another and to know that at a very deep level of Reality, we are one another. Think not that I ever came into this world to be a lord over it, nor a savior of anyone. I have come always and only as a brother and as a friend. indeed. I have come to remind you that life has never once been meant to be serious.

You are infinite, you are eternal and you are unbounded. And again I say, you have not come to suffer. You have come to bring the fullness of the Light you are to bear upon each moment that is given unto you as your experience. You have come to serve in the transformation and the healing of what I would choose to call the Atonement of the mind of mankind. You have come to bring healing to your planet. That is what is happening in this time and in this age. For there is, indeed, a grand quickening taking place, and you really don't have time to get overly caught up with petty little details and personal concerns. That is not why you have come.

But the habit held in the mind will lead you to believe that you must eternally be wrapped up in the concerns of what I would call the ego. But I say unto you that the whole of the message that I would give unto you is a message given in Love. I would ask you to throw open the shutters of your Heart and to see that you have come to serve an Awakening and a transformation that transcends every boundary that you have ever placed upon yourself. And every boundary that anyone else would place upon you. You have come to be only the extension of unconditional Love, that through that Love all things might be made new again.

There. So, we have cleared the air on that.

[How do we get from here to there?]

By recognizing that here is there.

[How do we make that quantum leap in understanding?]

By looking within yourself and contemplating this simple Truth, "How, indeed, could I ever be separate from God and outside the Kingdom?" For in Truth, if you were separate from God and outside the Kingdom, you would cease to be. It has never been possible for you to be in separation from God. But you have taken upon yourself a habit of thought much like one would put on a pair of colored glasses and then believe that what they see is the color of the lens through which they look. That habit of thought has taught you to believe that you are separate from God, that your life must be defined by the needs of the body existing in time. You have forgotten that the body is nothing more and nothing less than an instrument. You, the only begotten Child of God, can extend and express the Perfect Love of Christ.

How, then, to make that Quantum Leap? By understanding that never in Truth have you ever been separate from God. So, you see, the Quantum Leap comes when you choose to acknowledge within yourself that you are already one with God. For you see that it has been nothing more than habits of thought that have led you to believe that you are here and I am there, the world is here and the Kingdom is there, that you have a journey to take, that you must somehow find a way to overcome your failures of character and your limitations to earn that privilege of again coming into the midst of the Kingdom. It is all a matter of thought. For from thought arises all things. There is not one emotion, not one perception you have ever held that is not the product of the thought that you are choosing to hold in the depth of the mind.

When Will The Quantum Leap Happen?

The Quantum Leap comes when you simply begin to acknowledge within the mind that you are the one who has been sent forth from God. You are the Word made flesh, and it is you that has come into this world to bring the Light of Christ unto it. When you begin to make that acknowledgment, things begin to change. Your perceptions of yourself begin to change because the foundation of them has also been changed.

All manner of attempts to perfect yourself, to figure out why your personality is the way it is, all magical attempts to get oneself to the Kingdom must ultimately fail. There is no such thing as a magical device for entering the Kingdom. There are a host of modalities and techniques, rather a bit of a spiritual smorgasbord.

And many of you have eaten of virtually every plate in the cosmos. And some of you rather delight in trying on new dishes. "I wonder what this one will taste like. A little bit of Tibetan Buddhism here. I'll go back to Christianity. Well, I'll move over here to Agnosticism." And it can be a rather enjoyable drama, and it can be very meaningful because when you understand that you have journeyed every where and every when, you have donned every spiritual cloak ever devised in the minds of mankind, you have tasted of the teaching of every master, then you will come to see that after all is said and done there is still a choice to be made: to acknowledge that you are that 'One' in whom the Father remains eternally well pleased.

Then, indeed, you begin to lay down the dream of the dreamer, because the light of day has come and it is time to let the darkness be dissipated. Then, indeed, do all things change? For Heaven's sake, yes.

What would become of you? Ask yourself this: what would become of you and your life if you were to acknowledge wholly with every fiber of your being that you are the only begotten Son of God and every symbolic teaching, every manifested master, has been nothing more than a mirror of your own being? What would change? Do you think you might need to give up excuses? What would change?

For indeed, beloved friends, when you contemplate that question deeply, it will serve to loosen certain deeply-held fears and allow them to surface so that you can look at them, love them, embrace them and release them.

What do you think? Is this making sense? What would change for you?

[There are changes in my perception. A clearing of feeling separate, feeling alone. And that still comes sometimes, but much less. It's difficult for me to mentally ... it's very clear to me on one level, and it's difficult for me to find the words to express this, but there are changes. I find them even in my dream state. My dreams have been changing. My perception about ... well, many of my own beliefs, even about family ... and many things are changing.]

Now, precious friend, do you find that you're actually doing anything to make those changes occur?

[Am I doing anything? Well, I do say many times during the day, "I choose the Kingdom. I choose Joy." Even if I am not feeling it, I still say it. And I am making those choices of remembering to say them much more often.]

Now, this is all very important because, of course, it elucidates the point I am seeking to share about how to make that Quantum Leap. Because the worlds that you have brought into being have flowered forth from the soil of your choices. It is not necessary to look back and try to trace the source of those choices, although that is possible to do. What matters is that you recognize that what you desire above all things is to be in the Kingdom of Heaven – call it by whatever term you wish – and to acknowledge and to make that choice now.

You cannot look into the past and fix the choices you made then. And actually I want you to know that's a very good thing because, you see, whatever choice you have made in the past in error has already been healed in the Mind of God, Who has never looked upon you with judgment. It means that here in this moment, and this moment and this moment, is the only place that you can find entrance into the Kingdom.

And the key that unlocks that door is the choice to choose anew: "I choose the Kingdom and I abide as the only begotten child of God, here and now in this moment." Now, the mind would teach you that you must first re-arrange circumstances and then, because you'll be feeling better, you'll be able to choose. Anyone had that energy come to them or that thought?

It doesn't work, does it?

In Truth, because you have held the belief that you are outside the Kingdom, you have been re-arranging circumstances ad nauseam since before the beginning of time. All of the worlds that have been proliferated have come forth from the soil of one belief held deeply in the mind of the only begotten Son of God: "I am separate from my Father. I am alone and must, therefore, make my way. And I must hold a little bit of fear toward everyone and everything around me." Now, therefore, to make the Quantum Leap again requires only that you choose to choose anew with every breath. That, you see, shifts the very fundamental matrix, the fundamental foundation from which your worlds have been built. For you have chosen Union instead of separation, Joy instead of fear. You have chosen Love instead of judgment. And that is what makes all things new.

Now, does that mean that in the twinkling of an eye you'll suddenly find your life being everything you have ever dreamed it could be?

[No.]

Not at all.

[Rats.]

Remember always, it is only the ego that has been made in error that says, "Rats." Do you understand what I am getting at? What do you think?

If your dreams have been dreamt in error because they have come from the soil of the fact that you believe you are separate from God, to say, "Rats, they are not all going to come about," is actually an error. To reconstruct the foundation of your own being means simply to choose anew to be the Truth of who you are always. And when you do that, you find that you can begin to allow the movement of the Mind of God through you. Will that rearrange the details of your life? Probably. At least in part. Will it be a dramatic change? Possibly. Maybe not. Though I hate to say this to you: no one knows.

Is it not true that the mind wants certainty? "If I do 'A', will 'B' follow? When you can guarantee me that 'B' will follow, then I will choose 'A'." Know you that thought?

[I hear the words but my soul doesn't understand.]

Yes, it does. When you say the soul doesn't understand, you are doing what is called, "copping out". You know what I'm talking about. What creates the illusion within you that you do not understand is that subtle level of fear: "What would happen to my life if I were to truly acknowledge and embrace that all Wisdom and all Power and all Truth is already given unto me, and that I can abide in the Mind of God and allow that flow to be demonstrated through me? What would happen to my life if I were to throw caution to the winds and truly abide with what I feel to be True in my Heart? What would happen if I truly gave up the belief that I must somehow conform myself to the perceptions of the world in order to win its approval?"

[I thought I was further ahead.]

You are.

[I thought the drama of that Kingdom was foundational for the energy I have been putting into my relationship and my job. And if I didn't have all that drama, I couldn't prove that I was choosing the Kingdom first. But there's been times....]

Have there not been times when the Heart and the Wisdom that it already carries has broken through all of that? Much like a ray of light that breaks through a bank of clouds for just a split second? And you questioned the whole notion of the drama as a way to prove to yourself that you are seeking to abide in the Kingdom. Has it not broken through at times even in the midst of the drama, so that you've seen, "Wait a minute. Why am I creating the need for all of this drama?"

[Yes. A part of me hears that you say I'm creating it, and another part of me thinks I'm just trying to work through it.]

Is there a difference between those two perspectives?

[Well, I didn't create Mitch and I didn't create my career, but I'm choosing both.]

Is not to choose to create?

[I thought I was using them as stepping stones on my journey within the Kingdom. It doesn't sound that way, though. This is where I'm stirring up my muddy waters.]

That is good. For when the waters have been stirred, then they can be cleared.

[Well, this is what I struggle with. Am I in this relationship, am I doing this career for myself or for some other reason?]

What do you feel to be true?

[If I gave enough love to the task of both, that's all that counts because if it wasn't Mitch and if it wasn't this career, it would be somebody else and some other career. And it is only love that counts so why change the drama? Just make sure my intention is pure. But it sounds so depressing right now.]

It is not meant to sound depressing. All I have been seeking to do is to move you into a greater depth of looking at what you are creating and experiencing, to help you clarify for yourself that there is yet a subtle energy within you of a certain unworthiness of truly abiding and following what you feel in the Heart that transcends all of the concepts and ideas that the world has taught you to believe must be true and that you must be conformed to. Only when, in Truth, you touch that depth, can you see clearly which course of action to follow. I am not saying to you that you have to change the drama. I am asking you to recognize that you hold the Power and the Wisdom and the Light to discern precisely where you need to be and what needs to be done. And that you can own that wholly by recognizing first that you are already the 'One' you've been seeking. And you never need to look outside yourself for approval, to stay or to go, to remain or to change. For indeed, precious friend, in the past, in our relationship, you have sought in more than one way to get from me the direction you should take.

I hope we put that illusion behind you?

Beloved friend, always understand that it is not with the mind that the Kingdom can be grasped. It is not through the mind that the Kingdom can be lived. It is only in the quiet of the Heart that the Kingdom can be allowed. Now, once again I say unto you: that can be a bit frightening because the world teaches you to abide in the mind.

And yet, no one – this is very important – there is not a single master in this entire cosmos who can make the choice for you. The only way to make the Quantum Leap is to make it. Not to be asked to be carried across. Not to forgo the decision and hope somebody else will do so. Not to continue to put it off another minute or another hour or another incarnation or another thousand worlds from now. Because, you see, when those thousands of worlds have been lived through, you'll be precisely where you are now: with a decision to be made. Not a decision about circumstances – those things are all quite relative – but a decision whether or not you are going to listen only to the Voice of the Spirit that speaks to you in the depth and the quiet of your Heart, and to abide there and to live from there. It is the only place that the genuine guidance of the Mind of God can be felt and embraced.

[I feel my life is like parachuting down through the air. I haven't opened my parachute yet. ... How long do I keep going through the air? There's nothing to hang onto.]

Isn't there?

[I've always looked to you as my savior. That's a big switch for me.]

And that has been taken away from you?

[Well, I'm trying to rely on myself.]

Exactly. And yet, when you come to reside within the Heart and to rely on yourself, when you truly come to abide in that place, you will see that you are relying on the very Christ within you. We've touch some deeper places, have we not? Clarity is going to begin coming to you much more swiftly now. That which has begun to be released as certain tears signals the beginning of the release of that deep fundamental fear and unworthiness of which I have been speaking in relationship to you.

[Unworthy of what?]

Being Christ.

[Oh. Why do I always have that feeling?]

Because it's been taught to you and you have accepted it.

Precious friend, you have carried with you a very, very long strand that takes you all the way back to that time that I walked upon this earth. And that strand is what you would know as Christianity, and the strands within it that have taught you to feel guilty, to believe that you have sinned against God, that it must be a struggle and that in the end you must still be only a creature of God and that I must be the Son of God, that, therefore, there is a separation and a gulf between us. And now you have chosen to come to that point of releasing that illusion, for the Son of God is 'One' and Christ eternal dwells within you as the very Heart of your only Reality. And the end of a long, long journey that has, in Truth, never needed to be can culminate only in the recognition that "I and my Father are 'One'." And if those words are True for me – and I assure you that they are – they must be also be True for you.

Precious friend, the tears that in this hour have begun to well up come from that deep-seated fundamental split in which you have perceived yourself to be less than the only begotten child of God. Time to begin to let that illusion be put to rest. That, precious friend, is what you are going through. Part of what you have drawn to yourself in the nature of this career is like taking certain metals and bringing fire to them to purify them. The resistance you perceive in what you call the corporate world out there is simply that which comes to serve you to generate the heat necessary to clear the air waves, so to speak, so that you can truly embrace that you, precious friend, are Christ.

[I didn't see it that way. Is there another option?]

Of course. You could try accepting the fact that you are Christ and that you don't need heavy drama and much difficulty in your life – you are worth too much for that – and simply ask of the Father to present a way unto you in which you can serve this world, serve this planet and have a great time creating a wealth of abundance for you. It's perfectly okay.

[You don't remember me saying that?]

Saying it and truly feeling it from the depth of the soul is a different matter.

Again, precious friend, it is just a pattern you have carried that it must be difficult. There must be a battle set up between the forces of good and the forces of darkness. The eternal battle of Armageddon. Now, I know this sounds like sacrilege, but that is a lot of rubbish. Why would your Father ever create you to suffer? God did not create darkness. He doesn't even know it exists because it doesn't. Those forces exist nowhere, save in the mind of mankind that chooses to believe that it is separate from God. It can't be placed any simpler than that.

[Why would mankind choose that, then?]

The choice to perceive such darkness and such travail comes out of the soil of the one fundamental thought held deeply in the mind: "I am separate from God." With that belief came the cloak of guilt, as though God had been sinned against. That proliferates the creation of the belief in dark forces, evil, the devil. Remember, there is nothing outside of you. And the whole drama began.

Ultimately, it is not a question that can be answered with reason or with words. All you can do is accept that the choice was made. Why did mankind do it? Perhaps the best answer to give is, why not? Why not find out what it might feel like to live in separation from God? In Truth, the spiritual journey that brings the soul home to the Kingdom begins when the soul begins to be tired of the drama of separation, having taken it as far as it can. Much like a child grows weary of an old toy and finally throws it over its shoulder, arises and goes forth into a new reality.

To place your energy in the attempt to understand why something happened in the past merely depletes the power you have to choose anew now. And here is the only place that you can ever find the doorway to the Kingdom of Heaven.

When The Quantum Leap Is Chosen, It Becomes Very, Very Clear!

Now, I'll let you in on a little secret. Though you would ask, "Why did mankind ever do that? Why did I ever do that?" It has already been healed! The separation, in fact, has never occurred. It cannot occur. If it had occurred, God would not be Who God is. And God is but Love and Love does not allow a trace of perception of separation.

I know all of that seems a bit incredible, and yet when the Quantum Leap is chosen, it becomes very, very clear. One either abides in darkness or Light., the world or the Kingdom. And when you feel judgment or when you feel darkness or when it all seems too perplexing, stop and choose anew. The world is complex. The Kingdom is simple.

Now, this brings us back to what we started with: it is all a matter of a choice you would make. And when you choose wholly to abide in the Kingdom and to refuse to see anything but the extension of Love through you, then you become one who is willing to allow a Wisdom and a Power that seems to transcend the mind to be that which informs you and moves you through this life. You become lifted and borne by the wings of Spirit Itself. And that is all that matters. All of the rest of it is nothing more than historical details.

Now, I am quite sorry that I cannot come unto you and speak with flowery language and give you magical techniques. Because, you see, the time is short. And that is not, in truth, what you've come here this hour for. You have chosen to come to be reminded of the Truth. And if I did anything less in this hour than to share that Truth with you, I would have done a great disservice to you. And I Love you too much to do that. Does that help?

Awakening is not difficult. Now, actually it's quite a Light affair, and if you understood how easy it is to abide in the Kingdom and how great the Light is there, you could do nothing less than laugh. You see, the whole thing and the whole drama that you experience is a perfect weaving of a beautiful tapestry upon which the Father places the whole of creation and brings it home again. There are no accidents and there are no wrong turns in your journey, nor in anyone's.

You are more intimately bound to every blade of grass and every wisp of cloud in the sky and, therefore, also to every soul that you see than you can possibly imagine. You could say that the whole of creation is closer to you than your own breath. And the whole drama is being played out for everyone at the same time. It is very important to remember that.

There is nothing outside of you. The problem comes, you see, when you resist the flow of the drama and you try to use the mind to figure it out, to try to make it be what you would ask it to be. But when you abide in the Heart wholly, you find that you have the power to allow all things, embrace all things and love all things.

Because you have chosen to awaken to the ability to perceive that the only thing that is happening is that creation is being brought back to its union with God, being restored to its proper place. Nothing else is ever going on.

Do you see if you could abide in that perception, everything could be embraced and loved? What would there be to fear? And indeed, that takes a Quantum Leap.

[I don't know anybody who is alive on the planet who is experiencing that kind of connection, and I half believe to experience that kind of connection you leave your physical body and leave this particular world.]

First of all, you would be very, very surprised at the numbers of souls that abide in that state all the time. Some of them you might even see on your streets and they might seem very, very ordinary. The belief that when that enlightenment comes that you leave the body and leave this world actually comes from the perception that holds that there is a distinction between here and there. The Kingdom is already spread across the face of this earth.

Will you disappear? You might. But, you see, there's another step along the way. For when, in Truth, that depth of Enlightenment is allowed and embraced, you become free to follow what we'll call here the dictate of the Holy Spirit. And if it asks you to be a street sweeper, you will simply be a street sweeper. And if it asks you to ascend before a thousand people into a ball of Light, and to disappear from this world forever and thereby make a demonstration unto those that are yet sleeping, you would find yourself doing it. And all with the greatest of ease.

So, you see, it is not true to believe that with that enlightenment you leave the world physically, but indeed, you leave the perceptions of a wholly insane world. But you become and are birthed as a Perfect Servant of that Light. And you come to see that because nothing is outside of you, you can do nothing else but become a servant of those who yet sleep and would cry out for awakening. In other words, Enlightenment necessarily gives birth to eternal compassion.

I would even say that you might find yourself willing to create a certain demonstration in which crucifixion seems to get a lot of attention. But, thank God, you don't need to do that. Does that make sense?

The Quantum Leap That Transcends Time!

Indeed, he that chooses the drama of seeking remains forever the seeker. But he that would choose to release the world and to abide in that Peace of a quiet and Awakened Heart makes what you could call the "Quantum Leap" from the drama of seeking to the Reality of finding. (ARC)

Therefore, the greatest of spiritual techniques, the greatest of masteries that you could have ever come to with one of your Ph.D.'s is to simply rest in the Truth you are, to be Love. To take the Quantum Leap from being the seeker and acknowledging here, you are the finder.

So, at any time, there can be the miracle of miracles, the Quantum Leap, that transcends time, because the mind can suddenly understand and get all that it needs to do and understand is to accept itself, and it is already home. Generally, there are glimmers of that. And so there are little Quantum Leaps, little accelerations in which old ideas and perceptions are discarded as Self-acceptance deepens.

Where Else Could You Possibly Find A Greater Freedom?

Great, then, are the blessings that indeed we share together. Great are the blessings extended unto us of this our precious and Holy Mother, this Earth. Great are the blessings that are extended unto us of the One that I have called, "Abba," Father. So much so that the union of these two brings forth but a state of blessing so that each moment is sacred and each place on which the Holy Child of God walks is indeed Holy Ground. (ARC - EA)

And wherever two or more are gathered in the name of 'One' who is but the presence of Love, Christ eternal, we are together as One. Wherever two or three come together in that recognition that only Love is Real, the whole of creation is lifted. (JT-ES)

You are here to demonstrate the Wisdom of an Awakened mind, and while time lasts there is but one lesson you need learn and you need demonstrate: "There is nothing outside of me." Not a blade of grass, not a creature that walks upon this Earth, who swims in the oceans, is outside of you.

Ascension. Ascension does not occur for those who continually seek to make it happen because they haven't first made peace with where they are. In other words, there are many upon this plane who are still seeking to avoid being here and the ascension game is but another grand device used by the ego to try to avoid responsibility for learning the simple lesson that "There is nothing outside of one's self." The way that you transcend the world is to embrace and love the world.

What is best and wisest for you, will reveal itself to you when you are willing to bring a simple and gentle honesty to each moment. It's a very serious thing to do, it seems, because the world, along with the ego, will constantly try to tell you that you don't need to be responsible. And yet, I say this unto you: the dimensions of your responsibility would paralyze you if you knew just how broad they really were. And how broad are they? There's nothing outside of you.

And look now upon all dimensions and all worlds and all time frames that have ever been and every brother or sister you have ever known – and you have known all of them. And feel the meaning of these words as yours: "I am one with all of Life. I am 'One' with my Creator and I embrace every aspect of creation as myself. For I have learned the only lesson I have ever needed to learn: that there is nothing outside of me." (JT -A)

Right where you are, you are already home. You are not the body. You are not that personality that your parents told you you were. You are that consciousness, that awareness, that Love, that vast Light in which all of creation is arising, and the Holy and only begotten child or offspring of God is eternally One.

Where else could you possibly find a greater freedom than to realize that there is nothing outside of you? But there is everything inside of you.

~ Jeshua

Page Ref:

The Way of Mastery:

ARC	Archives Files
ARC-EA	Archives Files (EmileeA)
JT - ES	Jeshua Transcripts: The End of Seeking is Upon Us
JT - A	Jeshua Transcripts: Awakening

14 Quantum Leap Ref: See Pages 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 11 & 12

If a paragraph does not have a page number reference, it is part of the previous paragraph's page number.

This material was prepared to help Mastery groups in studying The Way of Mastery. You may copy and redistribute this material so long as you do not alter it in any way, the content remains complete, and you include this link as the source of the material: www.shantichristo.com

If you want to use this material for any purpose other than to help facilitate a study group (such as posting to the internet or a website), please contact Shanti Christo Foundation for written permission to do so at: 505-216-7541 or staff@shantichristo.com.

The Way of Mastery, Copyright © Shanti Christo Foundation. All Rights Reserved.

The Only Way To Make The Quantum Leap Is To Make It!.pdf
23-04-I40