The Tree Of Knowledge Is Planted In Your Heart!

Beloved and Holy children, you have not come unto this world in order to work out your salvation. You have certainly not come because you're being punished. You have never been cast from the Garden, but you have come even as I came forth to bear witness unto the world that, in Truth, the blessed Kingdom of the Father is spread as far as eye can see, and you stand in its midst. You have come forth even as I came forth: not to be conformed to the world, but to be the Light that dissolves all darkness. That is the power given unto you in every moment, and there is no one and nothing that can force you to deny the extension of that Light except yourself. That's how easy it is.

Go in faith into every moment and know that already are you held in the arms of your Father. And that each moment of your experience is as a very special blessing sent unto you as the Arisen Christ, and a Mind made Pure and a Heart made Holy once again. Is not the mind brought to silence when the Heart is touched? And yet the touch that comes unto you is the touch that awaits everyone who would but choose anew and choose to embrace the Arisen Christ. And it is the touch of Grace that has been extended in every moment of every dream you have ever known. That is how close you have been unto the Kingdom.

The only miracle that the Father could ever extend unto His Son: the miracle of remembrance. And in that miracle is all healing given unto the Son. And in that miracle is all Grace embraced. And in that miracle alone, you will find the peace that you have sought and would extend unto the world. Allow it, then, to touch your Heart. For when the key of allowance has been allowed, the fourth and final key is given and experienced. It is the key of Holy surrender, even the surrender of every thought you have ever held and even the thought that you must find your way to the Kingdom.

You are going to begin seeing changes in your perception. You are going to witness how your mind has been working, and you are going to see through it. And when you see what can serve you no longer, remember this well: you cannot transcend what you have not first embraced and Loved. For you cannot release what has not been loved. Embrace them, Love them, thank them and then from the Heart of the Arisen Christ, release them. And they will come no more.

Your Father Is Already At Work In All Things!

Would you look out upon your world and see abundance, communion, healing and Light? Then first embrace this Truth within your own being and say with me, words that have been ascribed to me, and yet I say unto you, they are already yours:

I and my Father are One. I am the only begotten Child of God, begotten before all worlds and One substance eternally with all that the Father is. This is my heritage; this my birthright. And now do I forgive the past and all dreams of separation and again claim the Truth of who I am. And from this moment I will go out no more from my Father's Holy place, for I abide in Light and Light I am. And Light do I extend boldly into all places that yet would choose darkness.

If you would but receive it, the Way of the Kingdom is easy. And thus have I taught you that my burden is light. When you can choose to give the whole of creation back to the Father, releasing from it the weight of your perceptions and judgments that can serve you no longer, you will look out in that moment and already see a world transformed. For you will see that your Father is already at work in all things, and that there is not one experience that the minds of mankind can bring forth upon this plane that will not be used to serve in the Awakening of mankind.

And would you serve this Light and this work? For I say unto you, there is not one thing in which you can be engaged in and find a higher fulfillment! For thus have I taught you: he that would be first, let him be last, and he that would rule, let him serve. For it is through service alone that the Father works to transform all things and to bring His sleeping Child back to the abode of perfect wakefulness.

There is not one who has not been touched by a Vision, a Vision of the whole of humanity as One Mind, One Heart, One Being. And yet know that you could not receive this Vision if you were not already that One Light. The Vision that you have beheld is but an ancient memory, a memory that you would now choose to bring forth again upon this plane.

Now there is really only but one way in which this can be accomplished. And it is for you to acknowledge with every breath that you are already the Vision you would seek to manifest, claiming it not for yourself but giving it wholly to the Father. For the most perfect master is one who knows that he is naught but the humble servant, and that no matter what the Father would bring unto him, it is already perfect. And if your Father would extend unto you knowledge of the fruits of that which He would ask you to do, then give thanks unto it, and then release it.

Learn To Look With The Eyes Of An Awakened Heart!

I would have you understand this well, for never has there been a master who has walked upon this plane who has been desirous of knowing and understanding what would come from the work that he or she would perform. And only in this does that most sacred of channels between the Father and Son open wide, and the Light that the Father is can pour forth freely.

When you give up your attachment to all that you believe you need and all you believe you are, then will you become as the spirit of the wind and you will move as the spirit moves you. And you will speak as the spirit would ask you to speak and you will act as the spirit would have you act. Yet you will not claim it as your own, but you will know it is the Father working through you.

What more could be the meaning of my teaching unto you, that of myself I do nothing, but the Father does all things. And yet many – who would choose to follow me – quickly busied themselves with wondering how they might acquire what they perceive to be my powers. And I could do naught but shake my head and smile and repeat this teaching a thousand times: of myself I do nothing, but the Father does all things.

Would you learn to release your identification with the body? Would you learn to fly away from it, and to journey to worlds unseen? Is it not first to ask yourself, "why"? For even within such a desire, if you would but look closely at it, you will see the seeds of limitation to which you claim.

For the Arc of Light that you are, already contains all things. And never are you separated from all times and all places. If you would learn to look with the eyes of an Awakened Heart, having brought the mind with which you have mistakenly identified, to a point of quietude, you would behold how easy it is to communicate with any and all masters and to touch and know every experience ever had within the field of mankind. For again I say unto you, these things do not exist apart from you but are eternally within you.

Behold You Are Already The One You Seek!

Many teachers and masters have come to you and they have spoken to you in the forms of languages that you would understand. And yet the fruition of all teachings abides in that to which I now call you: to release your insistence that you are separate from the Father and that you must seek Him out, that you must heal your past, and that you must break free from the chains that bind you, and to behold you are already the One you seek.

For the choice to be made is simple: to acknowledge who you are and to live it! For can there be seeking when there has not yet been denial?

In the time of that experience which many of you would yet perceive as a lifetime owned by one Jeshua, I spoke this gospel unto the scribes and pharisees, the authorities and leaders of that world. It did not set well with them.

Beloved brothers and sisters, does it sit well with you? Are you willing to give up the dream of the seeker to become again the Reality of the finder? Look well at what you have felt in this moment within even your body and you will know the answer to that question. For if you feel tightness or constriction of the Heart, know that you are yet choosing not to acknowledge this simple Truth. But that is perfectly okay. For it will be offered unto you again, even as it has been offered throughout the many forms of experience that you would call your lifetimes.

If only you would allow yourself to know how many times you have run after the Light of the Father and come close to His bosom and then said, "Not yet. I am enjoying this game of hide-and-seek. Yes, it is painful at times; yes, it brings great fear at times, but I think that yet within it is great pleasure." And how alarming it can be to the one enamored with the game of hide-and-seek to hear this simple gospel, that with your simple power of choice, in every moment and before every breath is given unto you to choose the Kingdom or to choose yet again the illusion of separation.

The Door Is Already Open and Through It Shines A Light Incomprehensible!

The Awakened Son is like one who thinks he has journeyed for many, many miles and, indeed, through innumerable lifetimes. Oh, and what an effort he has put forth in his longing to perfect himself and make himself a fit recipient of all that the Father is. He has beat upon his chest with great pride and has tasted the humility of his failures. But secretly, he loves every moment of it. For he believes that the experience is his and his alone.

And desiring that he would be the doer of all things, he clings to the illusion of ownership. And in the end of all journeying, he comes yet again for a thousandth time to the doorway of his Father's Kingdom. And finally, when he feels that he has been everywhere and every-when, and he has begun to touch the recognition that there is nowhere in all of the universes of experience that he could possibly go and not simply repeat what he has already known, then does he pause long enough, and behold, the door is already open. And through it shines a Light incomprehensible!

And suddenly there is a great lightness in his being and he releases his enticement with dreams. Then does he step across the threshold and as he merges with the Light of the Father, he is greatly humbled. For he sees and understands well that he has been but a sleeping Child and that all of his worlds, and all of his fears, and all of his longings, took place in but one moment. And even in this most Holy of moments does the Light of the Father embrace him and the son is returned to the bosom of the Father. And he has released even the dream of the dreamer himself. Then does he rejoice for now does he see himself as he always has been, unlimited without boundary, even that very Power that has enlivened all forms and sustained all experiences. He knows that in Truth he is the Light and Life that shines through the eyes of every brother and sister he has ever known.

This World Is Already Being Fashioned By A Light Incomprehensible!

There is not a single word within your language, nor even a book of words, that can explain or contain this most simple and precious of moments when the Son is awakened unto his only Reality. But if you would receive it, that of which I speak unto you is only one choice away. The veil is paper-thin and it is closer to you than your own breath.

Now to give forth this gospel into minds that would love darkness can create a great deal of volatility. The time in which this gospel was given through me was a time of great density, not much unlike the times that you know now. For even though the minds of mankind were dense, within that density and because of it, there came to be many openings. For the complexities and the weight of your world have forced many of you to begin seeking new answers. Thus, from where I am it is quite evident that the Father has always known what He is doing. For all that has been created upon this plane and in this world, is already being fashioned by a Light incomprehensible to serve as the very tools that would awaken the Child of God.

For it is this Light that has fashioned your journey to this hour and this very moment, to hear yet again this simple gospel of a Truth that can be forgotten but cannot be eternally denied. Even where you sit, seemingly encompassed by the form and shape of a body, in this moment you can choose to awaken to your only Reality.

And I am going to ask you to do so. Not tomorrow, but now: to speak those words within the secret chamber of your Heart, "Well, I am the awakened Son of God."

And it wasn't even difficult. For those of you who have chosen this Awakening, I would have you understand this well: the Awakened Son is yet like a child who chooses to walk rather than crawl, joyfully enjoying the trying of your new legs. And let every moment of your day be as a practice session for you. For if you would receive it, to the awakened Child of God every moment is a blessing extended by the Father, wisely. So that in that moment the maturing of the awakened Son can take place.

And know that in every moment when you experience fear, or doubt, or the need for another to fulfill you, that in that moment you have forgotten the choice you have now made. And simply remember.

What Would You Allow The Father To Create Through You?

Many have attracted certain people unto yourselves only to find the same unpleasantness, the same lack of fulfillment. But I say unto you: when you are willing to look upon that one from the eyes of the Arisen Christ and to extend that forgiveness unto yourself, you will then for the first time embrace the one before you, and you will Love them as the Christ they are. And then if it be your Father's Will, they will dissolve from your experience without the least effort. And what the Father removes He replaces with a Jewel that is far more radiant because the child has made of himself a fit receptacle for that which the Father would extend unto him and through him.

For, in Truth, you are not two, but One. And you are not many, but One. And it is available unto all of you in every moment, when first you are willing to set aside the habits of your ego and to choose to abide in the equality, to choose to abide in unconditional acceptance, Love and allowance, trusting that your Father already knows all that you have need of and will extend it unto you if you but ask with a Pure Heart. And if you would listen from a silent mind, the Heart has been returned to the Kingdom.

I have been speaking to you, whispering to you in your dreams and between the many thoughts that would crowd into your mind in your days. And I have asked you to come and to abide and to learn and to witness and to embrace the very simple fact that you are not separate one from another and from your Father. You are Christ and there is nothing that is not available unto you. Miracles exist naturally to Hearts that choose to Love.

Beloved and Holy and only begotten Child of God, you are the Love you seek and within you is all Power given to know the Will of your Father, who Loves you and whom you can trust completely.

You Are The Arisen Christ and You Have Come Forth To Heal This World!!!

What would you create? What would you allow the Father to create through you? A little bit of peace or an Infinite Ocean of Peace? Throw open your shutters and spread your arms wide, and they will never reach the boundary of your Father's Love. And it is given unto you freely that you might choose to extend It unto a world filled with darkness. For even as you have dreamt this world into being, it is given unto you through the Power of the only begotten Son to birth a new world, and to stand again in the midst of the Garden from which you have believed yourself to have been cast.

The Tree of Knowledge is planted in your Heart, and the fruit thereof is there for you to pick. And when you would taste of it, you will see and know you are the Arisen Christ and you are come forth to heal this world!

Take that Truth with you. Breathe It. Digest It. Give thanks for It. Bless It and embrace It. Let It transform the whole of your being, for It holds the Power to dissolve every last trace of belief that you have ever been separate from God. And then will all doubts be gone eternally and shall return no more.

Indeed, The Time Is At Hand!

Beloved and Holy Child of God, Light of my soul, and the Love that shines from my Heart is what you are. Indeed, beloved and only begotten Child of God, The Time Is At Hand.

Those with ears to hear, please hear. Put off the cloaks of pettiness and don the cloak of the Arisen Christ, who hasn't time for bickering and smallness. And be the Love you were created to be and embrace the Power given unto you.

Indeed, the time is at hand! You are Loved wholly and you have never sinned. And all Power is given unto you to know and extend the secrets of the Kingdom if first you would ask with a Pure Heart and listen with a silent mind and a Heart that sees naught but Love.

Always breathe deeply of the Angel of Air. For it is the presence of the Holy Spirit extended unto you. It is given freely in every moment. Learn to see that when you block the flow of breath, you are choosing to deny the Kingdom within you. And there is no answer that cannot be extended unto you when you breathe the Breath of the Holy Spirit and allow the Wisdom of your Father to pour forth through every cell of the body.

Choose anew to see with the eyes of the Arisen Christ, to Love one another as your Father has Loved you eternally. Let the dead bury their dead. I speak of the habits of the world around you. Do not join in their funeral procession, but be ye, therefore, the Light of the world, and you are the salvation of this world.

I Love you, Holy Child of Light divine, and together we bring about a marriage of all that your Father is. And we will extend together as far as from the East to the West, joining in the Heart of the Arisen Christ, being that Light, extending that Light, forevermore, until time itself is ended.

Be at peace in all things and know that I am no further from you than the distance of one simple, Holy thought:

I and my Father are One.

And indeed, Holy Father, let there now be Light. Go in peace and abide with one another with much joy and laughter. Go in peace, precious and Holy Child of God.

Amen.

~Jeshua
