This Easter, Let Christ Be Expressed Through You!

To teach is to demonstrate. To demonstrate is to express what you have decided will hold the greatest value for you. Whenever you judge another, you are decreeing that the thing of greatest value is separation, since judgment always causes contraction and, therefore, separation from another. When you practice forgiveness, you are decreeing that what you value is joining in Holy and Peace-filled relationship. {WMe 196} (WM 183)

Remember that forgiveness has nothing at all to do with saying to another, "I can see that you have sinned, but I forgive you your faults." No! Forgiveness is the recognition that nothing has been done to you, and that you would prefer to see the face of Christ in the one in front of you. Let me give you an example related to Easter.

Easter celebrates resurrection. It has been made to celebrate my resurrection. But this has only served to turn your attention from the specialness – in the sense of your uniqueness – the specialness of your existence, your Reality, and placed your attention on mine and on me, as though Christ is something merely historical – as if I am special in the eyes of our God.

Easter is your birthday. Easter is a time to celebrate that the crown of thorns has been removed because you have chosen to think only loving thoughts, and that you have remembered the power given unto you through which you transcend the awful, dreaded and suffering-filled experience born of fear. For in Love, there is only peace. In Love there is only the infinitude of pure Spirit. In Love is Christ restored to your consciousness. In Love are you returned. {WMe 199} (WM 187)

Easter is for you and not for me. Therefore, set aside your images and your practices of me. Make no pilgrimage to me. Make a pilgrimage to the Heart of your Self by looking upon all that you see this day and seeing its beauty, its harmlessness, and by knowing that you are looking out through the eyes of the arisen Christ. You are that One who, with me, has overcome the world.

Therefore, indeed, each of you knows that there is a longing within you that cannot and will not any longer be denied. You know from the Christ within you that Christ has stirred within you, and is rising to take up its rightful place as the master of your mind and your heart, your body and your breath, and your dreams and your passions! Each of you knows that it is absolutely futile to attempt to settle for anything less. {WMe 89} (WM 84)

It does not come because of anything I have ever done for you. It comes because it must come. It must arise within each created mind regardless of its journeys, regardless of its attempts to deny what is eternally true. That is called the illusion of the dream of separation. It must come and it is inevitable because Christ will not be denied. Christ cannot be denied because only Christ can express what is absolutely True.

Herein is the meaning of Easter given. For what was demonstrated upon this your beloved earth is that most mystical of transformations that must come to your own heart. Not to behold a saviour separate from you, but to behold you are that saviour. (ARC)

And in every moment of your experience you can embrace this Truth. Before you is the perfect will the Father would give unto you. And that in each moment you have the power to choose to express and manifest all that the Son is and all that I have demonstrated unto you.

Christ Has Arisen This Day, and You Will Celebrate Easter With Each Breath!

Do not strive to heal this world. Do not do anything to make a show of how much you love another. Give up the concept of being a busy bee. Simply be the presence of Love, because you know that there is absolutely no value in being anything else. And that, in Truth, you have never succeeded at being anything but the presence of Love. {WMe 91} (WM 86) And for God's sake, please refrain from all attempts to get anyone to believe that you love them! {WMe 94} (WM 89)

Each sane moment that you have experienced, each moment of unlimitedness, each moment of genuine intimacy, each moment of Grace-filled Joy that you have ever known, in whatever form it seems to appear, has come because you have allowed your mind to slip into the Sea of Peace. There you have merely abided, empty, wanting nothing, seeking nothing, being merely the presence of what you are. {WMe 92} (WM 86)

And when that quality becomes cultivated so that it permeates your consciousness with each breath and with each moment, you will know that Christ has, indeed, arisen this day. And you will celebrate Easter with each breath. {WMe 92} (WM 87)

You will, indeed, learn what it means to trust what is birthed in the Heart. You will arise and you will go forth without fear – with no story at all! You will accomplish whatever creativity wishes to express through you, and the whole while you'll know that of yourself you do nothing, but the Father, through you, can do anything. {WMe 93} (WM 87)

Love created you. Love birthed within you as an individual – at least within the dance of time and space – the power to choose, the power to feel, the power to know, the power to channel Light and Love, the power to know that something exists within and as you! That's what Love has done! {WMe 93} (WM 88)

Learn To Love That Self Beyond All Created Things!

The whole of Creation is now experiencing a growing power, if you will, a movement, a momentum that must carry the mind from which Creation springs to a new level, if you will. It's not so much an evolutionary level as a level of re-cognition, a level of re-membrance, a level of re-turning. And that wave of momentum is alive and has already arisen within your Heart and Mind. You know it. {WMe 91} (WM 85)

Accept it as a divine gift from your Creator. For the call has gone out. And though many listen, few hear, and fewer still become wholly devoted to responding. Therefore, let your prayer be always:

May Christ, alone, dwell within and as this creation that I once thought was myself.

May Christ, alone, inform each thought and each breath and each choice. {WMe 91} (WM 86)

May Love direct each step. May Love transform this journey, through time, that in time, I might truly know the Reality of Eternity, the sanctity of peace, the Holiness – the Holiness – of intimacy, the Joy of the Father’s Love . . . prior to every breath and, indeed, even prior to every thought that arises within the mind.

And when your life, this one Life – and you only have one Life, you might have many bodies but you will have one Life – when you give that one Life wholly, what is this called here “with the lock, the stock and the barrel,” when you give it all to being only the presence of Love and if there are any cobwebs in the way of that, let’s get on with it and get them swept out of the way:

I’ve got better things to do because the whole of Creation is waiting to move through me, and I want to be aware of it! {WMe 93} (WM 88)

I want my experience, my lived consciousness, to be blissfully absorbed in observing the flow of Love through this mystery you call the body and dare to call your body, as if you have some right to possess it!

Put the whole of your attention on giving up the patterns of belief from which you have attempted to crucify the Self that God made and placed within you as your very awareness of your existence. Learn to Love that Self beyond all created things. Learn to nurture that Self. Learn to cultivate within that Self only that which speaks of Joy and Truth. So that your words and your actions and your very presence always uplift another. So that when another walks into the room in which you are sitting or standing or moving, they feel like a breath of fresh air just hit them, even if you have not lifted a finger. {WMe 94} (WM 88)

You are your brother's savior. You are your brother and sister's savior. They don't need me. They need you and they have been looking for you. Make yourself available. That's all you have to do. That is why I said that “my way is easy and my burden is Light.” It's made out of Light. It can't be anything but Light. (ARC)

Would You Allow This Easter To Be Your Own Resurrection?

To pick up your cross and follow me does not mean that you take upon yourself some heavy wooden artifact that makes your shoulders stoop and rubs the skin raw, so that the world can crucify you upon it. That cross is not mine. It was made by the world in error. My cross is made out of infinite Light and you can pick it up with one finger.

And when you place it upon your shoulders, the shoulders don't stoop. They arise, and power comes from your being. To pick up your own cross and follow me means to leave the crucifixion behind and become the Joyous Resurrection.

This coming Easter, which is very soon to be upon you, can be a time when you choose to celebrate your own resurrection, to celebrate the birthing of the Christ within you, and ascend with me to the throne of my Father – to use that language. It need not be perceived as heavy, but as Light. It is a joyous celebration to ascend, to become lighter.

Would you join with me? Would you allow this Easter to be your own resurrection, in which you have chosen to join with me as one Mind and one Heart? To know that what Jeshua represented unto mankind is alive in its fullness within you? If you want to talk to me simply hold the thought that, of course, you can do that. Where else can I be but where you are?

Nothing Will Be Unacceptable To You!

As long as there is a trace of energy within you in which you are striving to get from any perceived thing or object around you what you are sure you lack inside yourself, you cannot know the love of Self. And you cannot experience freedom. Happiness is an inside job. {WMe 95} (WM 89-90)

What happens when that really occurs? First – and listen well – nothing will be unacceptable to you.

Well – but – well – but, does that mean if somebody is not a vegetarian that they're still loved? Hmm! Does that mean if somebody votes for someone I am sure is the wrong person that they're not insane, that I can love them? Does that mean that someone who seeks power and, therefore, creates a war and kills five thousand women and children, that I can still look upon them and not have my Love be disturbed? Does it mean that whatever arises within this temporary world is really, truly, literally, not a problem for me any longer – that nothing is unacceptable?

It Is Time Of Celebration For The End Of Crucifixion!

I have never, in a sense, left this world. I have, however, transcended this world. Space and time are not a limitation to me. What I want to share with you if space and time are not a limitation for me, rest assured, that right now, they are not a limitation for you, because what is given unto the Holy Son of God is given equally and without measure. Rest assured the mind that inspires these words is the very Mind that you are and, therefore we come together not to seek knowledge, not to strive to overcome, but, if you would receive it, that which is coming to be born upon this plane is the end of seeking, the time of celebration, the end of crucifixion. (JT-ES)

And what is crucifixion but the perception of separation from all that God is, and God is but Love. And the rebirthing through remembrance is the resurrection.

I made a choice as a man, just as each of you in your own way make choices every day. And some of you well know what it means to feel like you are being crucified through the experiences of the world. If you have your April 15th, that's a common time. You have experiences in which those that you love seem to lead you through what is called death. And the anguish comes not because they have left you – because they have not – but because for a moment you unwittingly identified with the perception of who that being is: the body, subject, seemingly, to death. And loss comes, then, not because loss occurs in reality but because you have misidentified reality with an illusion.

And the choice that I made as a man was to be so outrageous as to believe that I could demonstrate to the world that it is not real. And if one of my teachers would have said to me when I was very young, "Guess what you're going to be doing?" they would have never found me again. It was not until very, very late in the game that it became evident to me what I was being asked to do. What was welling up from within my Heart – and you all know the same feeling; it's really not fundamentally any different than feeling a welling up to pack up your bags and leave your comfortable home. The same feelings come, don't they? "Is this going to work? What's it going to be like when I do it?" And do you not call upon the same Love that I called upon? "Just be with me through this." And indeed, I demonstrated that death is not real, that even the body itself can be resurrected and ascended into a form of Light, if you will, because it is Light. That which creates this thing is really nothing more than Light. You've made a thousand of them and none of them have really been you.

If I Can Raise The Body and Ascend Unto My Father, So Can You!

The whole purpose of the crucifixion is not that it saved anybody from their sins. It never did that. The purpose of the crucifixion was to demonstrate where you will continue to be throughout all of eternity until you are willing to truly let that small little shadow die and to claim your power, not just as a thought or a belief – although that's where it starts – but to allow that power to transform the emotions and every cell of the body. Then, indeed, the resurrection has been realized.

(JT - H)

And if I can raise the body and ascend unto my Father, so can you! I am not saying that you have to be able to be nailed to a cross so that the body dies and then resurrected in three days and ascend before your disciples. Of course not. I am saying that that was a demonstration of what has to happen to your perceptions of yourself, which is that which makes up the ego. A true healer knows that they heal nothing. A true healer knows that they fix nothing. The truest among them simply makes themselves available and learns to speak a language that the one who perceives themselves as sick or as diseased can understand. And they will abide with them and they will speak that language and they will use their modalities that they have learned, but all the while they know Who it is that will effect the healing.

It actually comes from the communication of that soul or that person with the Holy Spirit in whatever form they choose to think of it. And an agreement is made that healing will come because that soul has finally chosen to allow it. And often all they need is the safety of being with a healer. The greatest of healers are those that have understood that they have needed to allow correction to come to their own mind and their own emotions and their own bodies. And, indeed, the greatest of healers never cease in that process. That is what keeps them in the line of power, if you want to call it that, so that the Holy Spirit can work through them.

A true healer is one who has, in a sense, made a grand sacrifice of their life. They no longer are anxious to get to the end of healing but they enact the act of healing daily, throwing themselves open always so that they remain in communication with those that come to them and never forget what it means to be in the process of healing.

Now, that is very paradoxical, and I hope you will take some time to contemplate it. Because in the act of, in a sense, donning the cloak of one who is constantly working on their healing, they are actually liberated. And out of their liberation they take on the form of one involved in healing so that they can be with their brothers and sisters and be an effective channel of healing.

A Smidgen Of Willingness Is All It Takes!

There is no one in this room – listen carefully – there is no one in this room, and there shall not at any time be anyone who hears these words to whom I have not spoken that promise unto. I will show you the way to the Truth that is true always and sets you free! {WMe 96} (WM 90-91)

But only you can make the decision to bring the whole of your being to that journey. And all it requires is this much willingness – what you call a “smidgen” in your world. A smidgen of willingness is all it takes.

I know the way home because I have completed the journey, and I will show you that way. With every word that I utter, in this form as well as in other forms, my one intent is to reveal the place within you to yourself that is the presence of Love that you seek.

What if you chose to actually commit yourself to considering and hearing what I’m sharing, and return to the innocence of a child as you contemplated what it would mean in your life? Rest assured, when the journey to the Kingdom is completed, the journey within it begins anew. And the bliss and the wisdom and the creativity and the laughter and the friendships, the family, the joy, the serenity, the peace – that has been, for the most part, as what could only be seen as, surely, an impossible dream – these things will become your most ordinary state of being. And yet, none of it can occur through any power that can move through me.

Easter symbolizes your remembrance that your sins have already been forgiven, that you have already arisen because the Grace of the Father has insured it. And though you slept and dreamt for a little while, you already knew the day and the hour in which you would be as the patient with the therapist, and say, “Now I choose anew, and the drama is behind me. I live, yet not I, but Christ lives in me. No one here but the Son of God.” And if others need to have a name attached to your body, so be it. You know what it says on your true driver’s license? It would be good to have one of those made up and carry it with you. (JT - E)

“Son of God. Address: Everywhere that Love is.”

That would be worth getting a ticket for.

Upon This Easter Recognize That You Have The Power To Celebrate and Accept Your Resurrection As The Living Christ!

This day is a glorious day. Remember always to keep it Holy. Remember it by thinking on it in each morning before you lift your head from your pillow. Every day is the day of Easter and you can bring yourself only lilies – the symbol: the white of the lily that symbolizes your guiltlessness, your purity and your perfection that lies within you like an ocean that has been dammed up for far too long. You are the ones that extend Love to the world, and unto you I give my peace and my love and my certainty and confidence in you because I know you are exactly as I am, and if my Father could work miracles through me, then He can do the same through you.

I can guide you, and I can show you the way. I can walk beside you on the way that you’ve chosen. And, at times, I can give you my strength until yours is as certain as mine by carrying you. But ultimately, you must demand that I put you down so that your feet touch the soil of the Kingdom of Heaven and you walk, under your strength, under your certainty, beside me. {WMc 96} (WM 91)

Therefore, indeed, love one another as I have loved you. For the Father has first loved me that I might show you the Truth of what Love is and the Reality of your Beingness. I will not cease in doing this, regardless of how long you choose to tarry. For Love is, indeed, patient and kind. Love is not deluded, and Love does not allow delusion. {WMc 97} (WM 91)

Love embraces all things, trusts all things, allows all things and knows perfectly well where it’s going, and never ceases in that journey until every blade of grass is released from casting shadows and the whole of Creation is returned to the Heart of God.

Learn to love your Self and cry out to this world:

I and my Father are One!
That is the soil from which I move and live and have my beingness!
So be it!

*Upon this Easter or whenever you read this, recognize that you have the power to celebrate and accept your resurrection as the living Christ by seeing beyond the boundaries of death, loss, fear, hurt, anger, projection, and the perceptions upon which projection rests. You are the one who has been reborn when you choose to remember only Loving thoughts. {WMe 196} (WM 184)*

Would you choose to see it? Would you choose to live it? Not just in this most Holy of days when some miracles have occurred for most of you, but to understand that every day is Easter when you choose it. Every day is a day to celebrate the opportunity that your Father has just given you to extend the perfect and unlimited Love of God. (JT - E)
