A Message From The Shanti Christo Foundation ..

You Are Not Alone!

My greetings I extend unto you, beloved and Holy Children of Light. My love do I give unto you always and my blessings I would shower upon you. Always it is with great Joy that I come to be with you, even as you have come to be with me. Beloved and Holy Children of the Most High, only Begotten of the Father, Begotten before all worlds and of One substance eternally with all that your Father is. Know that you are Loved. Know that you are embraced in Light, in Truth and in Joy divine. Never have you journeyed far from the Kingdom. Never have you been without me, save in those moments in which you freely chose to inhere in the thought of separation which is the soil from which all of mankind's worlds have sprung forth.

And I have said this unto you time and time again: You are that one in which that thought first arose. And yet you are also that one in whom the Father is eternally well pleased. And if this is so, who are you? Are you the body? I would say unto you that it is not so. Are you the mind with which you have been identified? And again I would say unto you, it is not so. Are you then, the emotions that would course through you? And again I would say unto you, it is not so. None of these things can ever serve to separate you from the Truth of your being. And yet all of these things arise within you.

And if you would see with the eyes of the Awakened Heart, if you would come to where I am and behold the whole of creation as it is, you are going to have to allow a rather significant shift to occur. You are going to have to release every habit of thought that you have ever known, for upon these is built the very illusory world of your perceptions.

In Truth you do not look out from within a body, for the body is already contained within you. Now that's a nice thought, isn't it? Quite another thing to recognize it, know it and live it.

There is not one among you who is separate from me. There is not one among you who is separate from the song of the birds you now hear. There is not one among you who is separate from your farthest star. And there is not one among you who is separate from every child that is to be born into your world.

So then, again, I would ask you, beloved and Holy Children of the Most High, who are you? Who would you choose to be? For it is a grand Truth that each of you has chosen to dream the dream of separation and to behold yourself as small and alone, limited and unworthy of all that the Father would extend unto you. And as you have made that choice to believe the dream of separation, each and every one of you must in your own time and in your own way come to that most Holy of moments when you release all that the dream has been and Awaken in the midst of your Father's Kingdom, where you will have embraced the whole of creation as it arises within you.

With so very much love

~Jeshua
