You Are – And Listen Carefully – You Are Already An Ascended Master!

There is no group of masters that does not already include you. Let no one tell you that there is some group called Ascended Masters that are so far over your head, literally and otherwise, that it will take you lifetimes to go through many initiations to become as grand as they are. It is time to let go of the myth of progression because it is a myth born in time and therefore a language or model that has simply been used because that's all you could hear. (JT - A)

You are already in the club, and I want to let you in on a little secret: those of us to whom many of you have given labels or allowed others to give labels to us called Ascended Masters have just been waiting patiently for you to realize that where you sit in any moment to ask for help from us is inside the clubhouse. You are already there. Does that make sense to you?

You are – and listen carefully – you are already an Ascended Master. It's already been finished. Your resistance to it comes only from the belief that that's not true. You've misperceived that the journey is already finished and the joke's on you. You are already that Light. It doesn't matter what shape or form your body is in. It doesn't matter what age you are. You are an ascended master. You already awakened. The game is over. You are just watching a re-run. I know that seems almost simplistic, but anyone who chooses, even in this moment, to accept that fully, realizes that I am not kidding. There is nowhere you are going. Nowhere at all. You are already back Home where the long, long journey that's never been, began.

Reborn Is The Time Of Strength and The Time Of Certainty Of Purpose!

“I and my Father are one,” and there is nothing to do except allow that Love that you are to be given away in any number of infinite forms. If you want more forms and more ways in which to give it away, just ask your Father. He will provide them to you. “Oh, but if only I could become a great artist, then I'd be happy.” Be happy and you are a great artist. What could take a more delicate touch, a more creative stroke, than to master the art of being the presence of happiness itself?

Well, so here we are together in this experience called creation. What on Earth shall we do with it? Anyone have any ideas?

Indeed, play well and laugh well while you are repainting the canvas. That's all you are doing – repainting the canvas. In your own life you can repaint the canvas any time you want to start. “I don't like that color. A little boring.” So, change it. Indeed, play and play well. And yes, of course, play fair.

Beloved friends, the weight that you have carried need not be carried any longer. Already it is been taken and removed from you and you are free to walk forward according to your knowingness and your Truth. Gone is the time of weakness. Reborn is the time of strength and the time of certainty of purpose. (JT - HHH)

If You Call Upon Me, I Will Come and Abide With You and You Will Feel My Countenance Upon You!

It is time for you to go within and trust your knowingness. How you will know what the proper course of action is? Let not the fear that can emerge from the ego be the final voice that you will listen to, but plumb the depths and rest in the peace in the Heart. There the way will be set straight for you.

If I were to give you the answer in the form that you were hoping for, it would be of a great disservice to you at this moment. You are having what is called a bit of an initiation, and you are being asked by yourself whether or not you are going to be willing to trust and follow your knowingness.

Rest assured, when in your privacy you indeed go within, if you call upon me, I will come and abide with you and you will feel my countenance upon you. But I cannot give you the answers. It must be revealed within yourself for yourself. And from that will come indeed the rebirthing of a great strength that you have kept hidden from yourself out of an ancient sense of unworthiness, and that is the weight that is removed from you. Your time is upon you now.

Thank you for your courage. We know what you are going through internally. Time for some shifting, time for some healing, time for some growth. Time for Awakening!

The Holy Spirit Requires Enlightened and, Therefore, Empowered Minds To Join With It, With Him!

Beloved friends, be of good courage. When you have truly relinquished every attempt to make and control your world, fear will arise, rest assured. But it is just to show you where you've been living, and just beyond it is the Peace that you seek. And each time you choose Joy, no matter what, you, shall we say, pass an initiation would be one way to put it. You step to the next highest level and a strength begins to come into you, a strength that shall indeed become like a mighty river and the things of this world will not deter you from the path that would be set before you and that you would choose to walk. (JT - Joy2)

The Holy Spirit requires enlightened and, therefore, empowered minds to join with It, with Him, in the translation of the whole of this world into a happy dream. Does it require strength? Indeed it does. Is it going to feel uncomfortable at times? Yes, to the degree that you try to hold on to old habits, whether they be habits of diet, habits of thought, habits of relationship, habits of career. If you believe those things are keeping you safe, you are going to go through quite a struggle because once you choose to Awaken, that is like you have taken your finger out of the hole in the dam and the water begins to pour forth – first a trickle, but eventually the power and the force of that water of Joy, of Truth and of Light will break down the dam completely. If you resist that, you are going to feel fearful and believe that everything is crumbling to dust, and it is. And yet, what crumbles is only an illusion, only something that has limited the Holy Son of God.

If I walk with you, your way is certain and fear need not master you. And the situations that are presented to you in your life are there so that you can recognize what you are now, as a soul, choosing to overcome, to grow beyond. Stop trying to keep the things that limit you in place and give yourself wholly to the force of the water that is the Joy of the soul that would break the dam down so that the river can flow. The river of creativity. The river of Joy. The river of eternal Life that flows from the Mind of God to and through the Son of God to be demonstrated and spilled over into this world.

I can never make that choice for you. Never. I can only whisper to you. I can only come to you. I can only abide with you, the Truth in you. And I can tell you that it's safe. It's safe to let the false constructs dissolve from your mind. It is safe and it is necessary, and if you would receive it, contemplate what this means: it is inevitable.

There Is A Strength In You, A Strength You Haven't Even Begun To Touch!

I have said many times that freedom does not mean, free will does not mean that you can choose whether or not to take a certain curriculum. You are only free to decide when you are going to take it. And the reluctance of the mind to truly take the course, live it and master it, (the curriculum), is that part of the mind that wishes summer vacation could at least last a little bit longer. But all the time you think you are enjoying your summer vacation, you are not really getting anywhere, and it takes a resolve – desire and intention – in which whatever it takes, you finally voice within yourself, "No, I'm not going to tolerate error in myself any longer under any circumstances. I am the Holy Son of God, and Joy is my birthright and my Kingdom and I am going to be that. And if it kills me, good."

There is a strength in you, a strength you haven't even begun to touch, a strength that when embraced will indeed dismantle every limitation that you believed existed in your life. And the right use of that strength rests on your willingness and your determination to choose Joy always.

Your Mission and Your Purpose Is Indeed To Be A Teacher Of God!

Please understand that everyone awakens to their own call. You are indeed awakening to that call. Beyond intellectual ideas, beyond the use of words and concepts there is a part of you that some time ago began to shift into a willingness to live the experience that the concepts point to. You are now undergoing what could be called a crucifixion. It's kind of fun, isn't it? Just kidding.... (JT-LYA)

There may be a little slipping and sliding. You feel that if you could just dive head first, it would go much more gently, but something in you wants to throw your feet in the way. Now, please receive this then: as you have made the belief that you are separate from God, so, too, have you constructed the drama, if you will, by which you will choose Awakening. Each soul does that. I cannot relieve that process from you but I can assure you that on just this side of the experience you are now undergoing – it need not last long – there lies the peace that passes all understanding and the rebirth of a strength carried by one who is well on their way to being nothing but a teacher of God. You all have had a certain experience a very long time ago, and the experience was really an initiation and a test, if you will. But it got you. And there arose a sense of doubt and a feeling of guilt and of failure, and it began to turn you away. It began to turn you inside out a bit. You have carried the weight of that perception for awhile. And what you are undergoing now represents certain kinds of energies that were present in that experience where you made a mistake in choice.

Therefore, the way to complete the dive is to continue to hold all things that are unfolding with deep gratitude and – and this is very, very important – recognize that the choice you made a long time ago, in a sense, is being presented to you – in situations – so that you can choose anew, and the choice requires your willingness to trust wholly that indeed all things could be taken from you and all that does is free you. It will return you to the path that you were on once upon a time. For your mission and your purpose is indeed to be a teacher of God.

Say To The Holy Spirit, “Look, I Know You Are A Good Tapestry Weaver, But Let’s Get On With It Here!”

I ask you indeed to trust the eye of the needle that is before you now. And if you are willing to step or to dive, to trust each day as it unfolds by remembering only to return to Love and to be at peace. I can indeed assure you that something quite beautiful will begin to blossom on just the other side of the eye of that needle.

Beloved friends, as I say this unto you, there is yet a bit of resistance within you at wholly accepting the profundity of what I am sharing. What you are undergoing is not unlike crucifixion.

And if you are willing to look upon all things through the eyes of Love, and if you are willing indeed, just to be willing to relinquish everything you have ever thought, believed or possessed, every friend you have ever thought you have had, if you are willing to relinquish the whole of the world, on just the other side of that choice is the completion of the dive.

Okay, so they'll only give you a three. So what? Let the dive be completed. Just the other side of that begins the rebirth of the purpose for which you have indeed chosen: rebirth in this world. The time of your firing, you know, your final – shall we call it a purification? – is upon you. You cannot solve it. You cannot change it. You cannot fix it. You can only allow it. I know that it feels like the allowing of death to occur – and it is. But it is the death of everything that you have carried because of an ancient perception that somehow you had failed and, therefore, carried guilt upon yourself.

And what I'm sharing with you is that dive requires that you allow the fear to be there while you make a different choice. "I am loved wholly and I have not sinned. There has been no judgment or condemnation. I have not failed my ancient friend." If you try to get rid of the fear first, the dive will not be completed. Dive into the midst of it and carry with you the jewel of Truth. I am with you always and, the appearances of your experiences notwithstanding; there can be no separation between us.

And if you think your strength is waning at any moment, remember what I taught you then: all you have to do is raise your hand and say, "Give me about a pound of your strength." And I will deliver it to you gift-wrapped. Indeed, precious friends, I love you. I am with you always and I will give you my strength until yours is once again as certain as mine. I have long waited for just this hour. Kind of like I had to say to the Holy Spirit, "Look, I know you are a good tapestry weaver but let's get on with it here!" Indeed!
