You Have Chosen This Time and This Incarnation In Which To Awaken!

Allow yourself this opportunity to contemplate this simple, simple message: "I and my Father are One," and to behold in your own being what that Truth means.

And as you do this, notice what arises. In many the mind fights back denying again and yet again that this cannot be true. And yet for as often as you would repeat this simple Truth, the thoughts which are born of the world and not of Reality would diminish until they are no more. And then will the world be transfigured before you and you will be greatly humbled.

For you will recognize that the only Reality that the Father would have the Son bring forth is to be the perfect servant in need of nothing, wanting nothing, striving for nothing, seeking nothing. For when you look and see that all things are already within you, what could you possibly lack?

And know not but one stone in your path that will not be instantly removed if you would but ask from this place of remembrance. For all lack, all suffering, and all doubt is but the result of your choice to forget who you are. In these days there is no more perfect practice than the art of remembrance, not done once but in every moment. Imagine the Grace and Power of not even allowing a thought to arise in the mind, save those that emerge in the soil of remembrance.

There are those who have touched that place and know well of which I speak. There are others who cannot comprehend that this could be so. But I say this unto you: you will know. For within your soul you have chosen this time and this incarnation in which to awaken. You have journeyed forth into many worlds born of the illusion of separation. And well have you witnessed that they are empty.

The prodigal son is every soul caught in that dream, "I am separate from the Father; I must make my own world." What a burden that dream is. And yet in the Kingdom there is no effort. Therefore, my way is easy and my burden very light.

For what could be lighter than a life lived without the effort born of anxiety to secure one's survival, to make one's way, fearing what the world would say, fearing what the world would do?

To be born in Truth again into the Spirit of the Kingdom is to live without plan, to live without the need to store up in barns. It is to move as the Voice of the Father, given you through the Holy Spirit, would have you move, knowing fully that in this and this alone does your fulfillment rest. It is this Kingdom to which I would call you. Not a kingdom of fear but a Kingdom of Peace. Not a kingdom of effort but a Kingdom of Perfect Grace.

Stand Resolute In Your Faith For Within Your Heart You Already Know All Things!

If you could but stand with outstretched arms, palms facing heavenward, and acknowledge that you are the only begotten Son of God, there is not one thing that would not be granted you. For the Father longs to give the Son the whole of His Kingdom. It is only in your choice to deny it that you can ever experience lack. Let there be then great rejoicing and an end to suffering. To this have I called you. Of this do I speak, and to this does the sleeping child of God now awaken upon this the beloved earth. Give no thought to how this awakening is to be accomplished. For the Father alone knows these things. But trust what you feel within your Heart and you will know that what I share with you is Truth. For the end of this age is not the end of this earth nor is it the end of mankind. But it is the end of sleep. And the awakened Son as the whole of mankind will swiftly put an end to all strife. Not one brother or sister will be denied.

And when the Son has experienced this great and Perfect Kingdom, even the Whole of Creation will have served its purpose. And the Whole of Creation will return to the Father. And yet of this, one cannot speak, for here no words can touch. And yet I say this unto you again: within your heart you already know all things. Call it not your imagination, for this is but what the world would have you believe. But stand resolute in your faith. For in faith is Perfect Knowledge. Remember always that you are loved because you are Love. Remember always that I am with you because I am you. And those among you who have yearned to embrace me and to know me, the one called Christ, embrace first the fullness of your own Being and you will have embraced me.

And all that I have spoken to you and all that I have shared with you throughout the many forms of my teaching, you will know in an instant to have been your own. Herein is Truth recognized. Herein is Reality embraced. Herein and here alone does Life in Truth begin.

Become As The Light That In Truth You Are!!!

Rejoice then with me. For within me there is not one trace of sorrow. My mission upon your earth required no effort; only actions born of the Father's Will. In sacrifice of all that you have thought yourself to be lies the Peace that you would possess. And if all that I did and if all that I taught accomplished anything at all, it was to demonstrate the Truth of who you are and how easily the Kingdom can be born even in the midst of what the world would perceive as incredible and as difficult circumstances. For though you would know not where tomorrow's meals might come from, yet does the Father already know that you have need of these things. Why then would you not trust Him? Why would you insist that you be the maker of your world? Would you choose strife over ease? Would you choose fear over certainty? Would you continue to choose even a trace of suffering, of lack, of doubt instead of choosing the presence of the Kingdom?

And when you are become as the Light that in Truth you are, in Truth that Light lights up all darkness and the whole of your Being will be given to the simple Joyous task of serving the Father.

And the Father would not but Awaken the world. Let then each moment of your experience be a grand celebration of the Truth that you know and the Reality that we are.

Let the Joy of remembrance light up your world and know well that all who come into contact with you will be touched by that Light though you speak not a word. Give them back to the Father, for He alone knows how to form their journeys that would bring them to this place and this knowingness and this Peace. He alone knows how to bring all from time to eternity, from the world to the Kingdom, from suffering to Joy. And you will come to know the Voice of the Holy Spirit that would nudge you to speak and to act. Not as you would speak, not as you would act, but as the Father would do these things through you. In the perfect servant is found the perfect silence. Abide then with me in all that silence, in all that it contains. For in perfect silence is perfect fullness. It is not that silence found between each word. It is not that silence that rests between each action, but it is that perfect silence in which all words can be spoken and all actions done. Abide here and here alone, and in this we are One.

Each of you I have known and each of you do I Love with all that the Father has granted unto me, even that unconditional and that unbounded Love that alone gives birth to the whole of Creation. And know that that Love fills every corner of your Being and in you there is not a trace of shadow. Thus do I, the one known as the Christ, speak this unto you, "Welcome home, beloved brothers and beloved sisters. Welcome home, beloved Christ."

The Soul Abides Always In Union

Much there is to be set in place, for the Awakened servant is like one who hears that the king of his kingdom is coming nearer. And joyfully does he set about putting his house in order and allowing his family and his servants and his friends to hear the blessed news that the king comes to abide in their home and in their community. I would urge you, then, to put your own houses in order for the time is at hand. And I would urge you to join with one another as often as you may do so and celebrate with much laughter and with much praise of God, for the end of your journeys has come, that the Messiah is reawakened and has taken His place at the right hand of the Father whose throne abides always in the very essence of your soul. And here there is no separation, one from another. For though bodies appear to abide in separation, the soul abides always in union.

And all of your teachings and all of your learnings have been but as guideposts to bring you to this acknowledgement: That the Son of the Holy Father is One, and that all beings that have ever been abide in the Son. And to know this, again I say unto you – you have and do and will live the Life of all beings upon all planes of Creation, for in Truth all things are contained in what you are.

Many have already heard the whispering Voice of the Father that would teach you of what is to come and what must be prepared. Deny this Voice no longer of what you have felt and what you have heard and what you know. For it is through this sharing that the Father would now choose to work among you.

And I am and have been but the servant of the Father, for I have called you and you have heard. And in your hearing you have come.

Join Then With One Another To Serve The Will Of The Father!

Do you think it by accident that each of you from the moment of your birth has brought yourselves to this place and this time? It is indeed a grand homecoming. There is no one here that has not known all others. For those that are called have chosen God, wholly and without reservation now and in this time. Rejoice then in the choice that you have made, not with the conscious mind but with the Heart. For it is not the mind that can comprehend the Kingdom but the Heart knows all things. Now is the time of rejoicing at hand. The long, long journey has ended. The days of preparation that each of you has chosen find their culmination in this moment.

Much indeed is there to be set in place. Join then with one another to serve the Will of the Father that speaks through you. Hear it within the chamber of your Heart and share it with one another. I would ask that you join with each other and wherever two or three are gathered together in this manner, know in Truth that I am with you. For we share in the work that the Father would have us do. Set then your house in order. Even the very bodies given to you by our Holy Mother. Honor with each breath the Holy Father which is in Heaven and the Holy and Precious Mother that is in and is the earth. Treat her well and give thanks to her that through you the world might be whole, representing the precious and eternal Truth that the Father is.

Blessings upon you, beloved of God, seekers and finders of that One Holy Light that lights all worlds and yet is forever beyond all worlds. And know well that you are eternally One substance with that One Light that I call my Holy Father. I am come forth unto you to speak of that which the Kingdom is and to share with you in the very presence of the Light of our Holy Father. For never have we been separate, not one from another nor from our Father. No world that we have imagined into being has ever tainted the purity of the Light we are. And now in this time let that Light be known.

Acknowledge Once and For All The Truth Of Your Own Being!

Long have I awaited this time to be upon the earth. Long have I traveled with you and counseled with you. Long have I extended the radiance of my Heart to enfold you, to uplift you and to safeguard you for the time that you would choose in the secret chamber of your own Heart to acknowledge once and for all the Truth of your own Being. For no one comes to the Father but by me, the anointed One, Christ eternal. And yet I would say unto you, no one comes unto me except at first they know me as their own Being. For the simplest Truth that can be uttered is this: the Son is One. And all souls are Beings and even the Whole of Creation abides in the Son.

It is this that you are and it is to this that I have called you. Throughout many dreams and many worlds I have whispered unto you, "Beloved dreamer, awaken. Abide with me in the palace of our Father and know that we are but One."

Is it not with great rejoicing that the Awakened Son looks out upon all that He sees and sees it as but his own Self? And yet all things cannot contain the Light of the only begotten Son of God. And though that Light permeates all things, they cannot contain what we are. And there are innumerable worlds that would arise and pass away. And yet always the Son remains in Perfect Union with the Holy Father. For the Son is before time and before space, before all that can be seen, touched, tasted and even thought. Before all these things the Son is, and it is this we all are.

The journey of the Son that has chosen to sleep and in his sleep to dream countless dreams has been complex, has been rich in its diversity. And yet the end of the dream remains simple. But does not the sleeping child simply open its eyes, lift its head from its pillow and behold? Does the child not know that it is home again?

Thus does the Kingdom come as a thief in the night, silently and without warning. And yet the thief is eternally blessed for the thief is nothing but the messenger of the Father, even that Holy Spirit whose Voice, ringing in the Temple of the Heart of the sleeping Son, awakens the Son.

And yet I would say to you, remember always that the Kingdom is as far from the world as the east from the west. If you would but look from where I am, you would know beyond a doubt that the world carries no trace or knowledge of that which the Son is. And yet it is a Mystery of Mysteries that were it not for the presence and the sacred union of the Father and His beloved Son no worlds could arise. Come then to this understanding. Look well, not with your physical eyes, but with the eyes of your soul, enshrouded in veils of distant dreams and ancient memories. Release them and behold the Truth. You are the Son of God. In this rests all salvation. In this rests the end of all longing. In this alone is Life. For the Awakened Son looks upon the whole of His journey and knows that it has not yet begun. For the only journey that contains Life is a journey within the Kingdom.

There Is Nothing In Your Experience That Can Separate You From That Grand Love That Is Your Being!

The path is simple and easy to walk. No obstacle is found upon it. For the Awakened Son who has become as the perfect servant of the Will of the Father steps firmly but lightly, not in the direction that he would go but in the direction given him through the Holy Spirit. And already does the Father remove all stones from the path before him. Therefore my sojourn among you, so long ago, was not one of effort or struggle. Always in my days upon your earth I rejoiced in quiet joy. For I knew well then that the world contained nothing that could fulfill me.

And when you choose to release all wanting that veils the Light of the Heart, you will look and you will see and you will know whereof I speak.

What could the world have ever done to me that could separate me from my Father? And my life and the apparent death of my physical body was but a demonstration that there is nothing in your experience that can separate you from that grand Love that is your Being.

And now hear well these words: the Father is come to abide upon the throne that He has already set within your Heart. And what effort can be spent in doing but the simplest of things? And that simple thing is but to acknowledge the Reality of that throne upon which the Father sits.

For where the Heart is made pure, the Father abides. And yet the Heart has always been pure. It is only for each of you to look, to see and to acknowledge. Never has there been a trace of sin that has darkened the secret chamber that lies within you. For all sin and the thought of it is but of the world. And what is the world when compared to the radiance of the Kingdom? It is less than even a shadow for it has no being and no power. Always do you abide as the Holy and only begotten Son of the Father.

And always do you abide at the right hand of the Father. To behold His presence you need simply turn the head of your attention and you will see Him and you will feel Him and you will know Him. And you will know Him because you have forever been with Him. Herein is the end of all seeking. Herein is the end of all practice that would turn the Heart of the Son away from the confusion of the world and the noise in the mind toward the silence of that Perfect place in which the Father resides.

In the end of all searching and in the end of all striving does the Awakened Son look and behold the journey never was. No effort has been expended, no mountains climbed, no pain overcome. For the Son abides wholly in the Kingdom or chooses to forget the Kingdom and to imagine that he abides in a complex and fearful and changing world. Let this be as a guide unto each of you when there is felt but a trace of contradiction of the Heart: know that you have begun to choose the world over the Kingdom. And yet in that same moment by acknowledging the Truth of your Being you can feel that contraction dissolve. And in its release know that you have chosen the Kingdom over the world. It is here that whatever the Son so asks the Father shall give it unto him.

The Awakened Son Simply Rejoices In Simple and Quiet Humility!

Look closely then at your frustrated prayers and know this: the lack is never in the Father nor in the Power of the Son, but in your insistence that you are separate from Him. And if you would but look closely, you would become aware of that constriction. It is this and this alone that must be released. You cannot establish yourself in the Kingdom, for this is already given you. But you can choose to release the last trace of constriction that binds the Heart. Therefore, do not strive to grasp the Kingdom, but allow yourself to release the world. And in releasing the world, that which alone is Truth, that which alone is your Reality, is again recognized.

For the sleeping Son is like a man who had journeyed to a far land and he would clutch tightly the purse that contains his jewels and his coins and would make haste to begin and sustain his journey.

And so intent is he upon what he perceives to be a distant land that he forgets that he clutches the purse in the palm of his hand. And thinking constantly of the land to which he would move, he becomes so distracted that he passes through it and does not recognize it. But the Awakened Son is like a man who would go upon a journey and his preparation resides in this:

He opens the palm of his hand and gives thanks for the jewels and the coins that he perceives there.

And opening his Heart, and his eyes and his mind and every cell of his body, he beholds that he is already in the land to which he would journey. And his feet move, not in answer to his own desires, but he is impelled to move as the Father would have him move. Thus does he move without effort, without strife and without striving. He has given all things back to the Father and the Father has shown His Light, perfectly and brightly throughout all things that the Awakened Son beholds. And the Awakened Son simply rejoices in simple and quiet humility.

And yet though the Awakened Son is never apart from the Kingdom, yet does the Kingdom remain forever Mystery. Paradox of all paradoxes. For the Father and the Son are One. And in Truth the Son is the form of the Father made manifest. Not to live in strife, not to struggle in lack, but to rejoice and to allow the fullness of the Light of the Father – that cannot be comprehended – to shine forth in every thought, in every word, in every action. And yet the Son knows that it is not he that can think a perfect thought, nor speak a perfect word, nor act from perfect purity. For these things abide in the Father and are given to the Son that through the Son the world might Awaken and be transformed into what has been called Paradise, what has been called the Kingdom of Heaven. For the Kingdom is indeed already spread across the earth but the sleeping minds of mankind choose not to see it.

Thus is Adam cast from the Garden through nothing more than his own free choice. And yet if he would but turn around and give thanks to the Father, already would his place be established, abiding in the Kingdom where there is naught but harmony and plenty and Love. Would you not choose then now in this moment and forever more to abide in the garden within your own Being and to acknowledge that you walk eternally with the Father, and that you are the only begotten, the beloved Son of God?

And yet the Son is neither male nor female, but the Son is the term that I have used and still use only because it is familiar to each and everyone of you. But no word and no language contains the Truth of which I speak and of which I am. No word and no language contains the Truth of what you are. Release then the chains that bind you. Look upon them and know that it is you who have placed them there for no other reason than to experience the dream of separation. And more quickly than you can think a single thought the chains can be released and dissolved by the Light of your own Being.

No One Has Authority Over You, Save The Father Within You!!!

When you have called upon me throughout the many forms of your experiences, know now that you have called but upon yourself.

What I speak is heresy to those who would insist upon separation from the Father. It is for this that I was condemned, that the simple and loving message would be denied to the whole of mankind:

"You are the Son and you are home. No one has authority over you, save the Father within you."

And know this, every choice made by the mind in hearing in the illusion of separation is already used by the Father to gently guide the sleeping Son to Awakening. Nothing ever brought forth in the worlds that you have experienced has ever done anything but to serve the Awakening of the only begotten Son of God.

And well do you know that the condemnation placed upon me by those who feared me has done naught but to serve the spreading of my Gospel. Herein know well the harmony of the Kingdom and give thanks for all things that come to you. Give thanks to the Father for all things that are felt and seen and touched and tasted. For well does He know what you most have need of. For it is only when you have chosen to abide in the illusion that you have been separate from him that you have longed for things that could not fill you.

And the anger that you have known and the enmity between yourselves and your brothers and sisters is born not of the Father but of your choice to dream of separation that there could be anything outside the presence of the Father that could fill you, that could nourish you, that you must surely need, for the Awakened Son has need of nothing. Seeking not, the Son gives all that he has and when he gives all that he has, he looks and, behold, he has more given unto him.

And never is the wealth of the Father spent. Would you not open your Hearts and your minds to receive of the abundance that the Father would give unto you? And as quickly as would receive it, would you not give it away gladly to your sleeping brothers and sisters? For the more that you give, the more you will receive. This is the Truth of the Kingdom and the fear of the world.

The Father Will Speak Unto You Of What He Will Have You Do! Will You Be Willing To Listen?

Beloved Christ, know well that you do not abide in the body, but that the body abides in you. And if you would but receive it, as you look around you, there is not one thing that you behold that does not exist within you. For in Truth you are of One Heart, One Mind and One Soul eternal. And the dawning of this, called the New Age, requires a new teaching. And yet what seems new has been already present from before that ancient beginning of journeys that never in Truth needed to be.

You have heard it said unto you that you have known many lifetimes, but I would say unto you, you are all lifetimes. You have heard it said unto you that you must perfect your weaknesses. But I would say unto you, you are already perfection. You have heard it said unto you that you must experience the consequences of your sins, but I would say unto you, you have never sinned. What then consequences must you endure?

You can in this moment release all things of the world, even those things to come. Here in this moment you can stop the momentum that has carried you to this point and would carry you into future lives and experiences of separation. You can let the wheel of the world cease in its movement. And in its ceasing is found the Peace that forever passes all understanding. And in the ceasing of its movement you will rest in the fields of your Father's Kingdom in perfect and unending abundance.

For the Awakened Son need only stand with outstretched arms, palms heavenward, and without even asking simply receive the abundance that is already his. Thus is the Kingdom born without effort. And thus does the Awakened Son proclaim, "Behold, brothers and sisters, my burden is eternally Light and my way is very easy."

All that I am and have been, you already are. And all that I did upon this your beloved earth, you can already do, and more than these. Think not then that you must change the water to wine nor that you must raise the dead to life. For the Father Will speak unto you of what He will have you do. Will you be willing to listen? For only when the Son abides eternally in silence can he hear the Voice of the Father. For in silence is the noise of the world shut out.

And in silence, the world touches the Son not. And in this most Holy of Silences, not a pause between thoughts, but that which abides eternally prior to all thought. And in this most Holy of Silences do you already know what your purpose is. And when you have chosen to acknowledge it, you will go forth lightly and without effort and there will be Joy upon your Heart and a smile upon your face. And the Light you are will shine forth through your eyes and others will behold it and know it. But some would still choose to fear it. Be not concerned for those that would choose fear, but abide always and eternally and with every breath in the Light of the Father's Perfect Kingdom. Choose, then, to be the perfect servant. And allow the world to be transformed, not as you would transform it, but as the Father would will it to be transformed.

In Truth There Is Nothing Else To Be Done
Save The Listening To The Voice Of Spirit!

Beloved brothers and sisters, the time is at hand to bring into manifested form what you have felt within your Hearts as the Will of the Father speaking to you in the Voice of the Holy Spirit. Much there is to be set in order. But in all things, guidance will be given unto you, when first you choose together to abide as the only and Holy begotten Son of God, and to rest in divine silence and then to ask what the Father would have you do.

The Kingdom of Heaven is indeed eternal. In it do you dwell. From it do you draw your sustenance. And in your acknowledging of the Truth of your Being will you become it. And your Light will light all darkness and your presence will be as a healing. And your glory that has never been tainted in the eyes of the Father will shine before the world that through you the Father might bring the Whole of Creation back again to Himself.

You are the Son even as I am. And I love all of you greatly. And do you not see that in loving you, I love naught but myself? And in loving me, you love naught but yourself. Those that have sought me and have prayed to me, know this well:

You need only look upon your brother or your sister and behold, I am there.

The time of dreams is ended now. This then is my gospel. This then my message unto you. Never have I been far from you and in these the last days I am come forth in many forms and I will be with you until you choose wholly to be with me. Thus will the Kingdom again be established in the minds of those who are yet sleeping. And there will be an age of Perfect Peace. It will be seen and known upon the earth and then will the very purpose of Creation have been fulfilled. And yet beyond this, nothing can be said. For in each and every moment the Will of the Father is given you. You need only attend to the Voice of the Spirit within you. And if you would know the Will of the Father, open the eyes of your Heart. For never would you be where the Father would not have you be. Gently has He alone guided you. Gently does He alone sustain you.

Know well that I love you, for Love you are. Know well that I am with you, for I am you. Know well that the Father makes His abode in you and waits patiently for you but to turn to Him and to acknowledge His presence with every breath you breathe, with every thought you think, with every word you speak and with every action you do.

I have shown you infinite patience because my will is that of our Father, from Whom I learned of infinite patience. His Voice was in me as It is in you, speaking for patience towards the Sonship in the Name of Its Creator. (T 88) [T-5.VL11.]

I call you then to abide with me, in me and as me. For in Truth there is nothing else to be done save the listening to the Voice of the Spirit that would guide us into the fulfillment of our Father's Will. And is it not in these times to be simply the servant to our brothers and sisters yet sleeping, that the Kingdom might again be made known, and that mankind might again take its place within the garden he believes he left so long ago?

Be, therefore, the Light you are. Rejoice in yourself and in one another. And again I would ask you to come together often. And where two or three are gathered, I am there among you. Come together in the complete recognition that the Messiah has indeed come. For I cannot be recognized by the eyes of the body until I am embraced by the arms of the Heart.
